U.N. Plans to Sign Armistice Despite Rhee

Rate Hike On Water Is 56.6%

Ordinance Introduced

By PHIL WADHAMS
Journal City Hall Reporter

A new water rate ordinance based on Water Advisory Board recommendations, increasing the average rate 56 6 per cent from the present 12 cents to 18 79, was presented before the City Council with a proposal for rule suspension and passage on three readings

It would become effective on July 1

It is the necessary forerunner of the issuance, in the fall, of $5 million of the authorized $8 5 million of water bonds, in order that the city may compile an actual record of receipts under a new rate schedule when bonds are sold Bond buyers deal only in realities and not in promises to raise rates

* * *

A WATER board report necessarily revised because of an upward trend in interest rates due mainly to the government's billion dollar issue at 3¼ per cent was submitted Last December in keeping with interest trends Black & Veatch consultants, reckoned the rate at 2½ per cent The board now figures 3½ The first borrowing for the revenue bond program was cut from $7 million to $5 million to provide only for the overall needed during the first two years, 1953-54

The increase in rates will still leave the city's residential rates lower than Omaha, Sioux City, Des Moines, Wichita and Topeka Mayor Clark Jeary said that because Akron, O, and Lincoln both have Goodyear plants rates of the two were compared

'And Lincoln is lower even with the increase," he said

Director D L Erickson said that had the proposed rate been in effect for the year ending April 30, 1953, revenue of $925,000 would have been produced instead of $590 000

The maximum interest requirement over a proposed 35-year bond run would be $269,000 reached to as debt service First payment on principal will not be until the fifth year

The average residential user now pays 80 cents per month for water His new bill would read $1 32 The proposed new schedule

Residential

First 5 000 gallons 24 cents per thousand
Next 5 000 19 cents
Next 10 000 14 cents
All over 20 000 per month 11 cents

Present Residential

First 5 000 gallons 14 cents per thousand
Next 5 000 12 cents
Next 5 000 10 cents
Over 15 000 8 cents

New Non residential

First 50 000 24 cents per thousand
Next 350 000 19 cents
Next 600 000 14 cents
Next 10 million 11 cents
Over 11 million 9 cents

Present Non residential

First 50 000 14 cents
Next 350 000 12 cents
Next 2 600 000 10 cents
Over 3 million 8 cents

Minimum monthly charge on both classes would be raised from 50 cents to $1

The average residential user bills for an average of 5,650 gallons a month

Before bonds can be offered for sale presumably this fall, a bond ordinance must be prepared and approved, also a bond history

Isolated Tornadoes Forecast

Southeastern Area Warned

The weather bureau has issued a warning of severe storm conditions in parts of eastern Nebraska and favorable conditions for a "few isolated tornadoes" in extreme southeastern Nebraska Monday afternoon and evening

The tornado area extends along a line 20 miles southwest of Concordia, Kan, to a point 20 miles south of Tarkio Mo and 40 miles either side of that line up until 8 30 p m This would include a stretch of southeastern Nebraska along the Kansas border

The "favorable" tornado area was not expected to include Lincoln or Omaha

THE WEATHER Bureau said a squall line was expected to form from 50 miles northwest of Norfolk to 20 miles east of Grand Island and Russell Kan, and 60 miles southwest of Dodge City, Kan

Turbulent conditions with rain and hail were expected to prevail between 2 30 and 8 30 p m

The bureau said the squalls would probably reach Lincoln in the late afternoon or early evening

* * *

RELIEF FROM the heat wave in Nebraska is in sight, the weather bureau predicts

The bureau said that a cooler air mass was pushing eastward along a line from Southeastern North Dakota through the Nebraska Panhandle and into Southern Colorado

Monday night lows will range from 55 to 65 in the northwest to 70 in the southeast Highs Tuesday are expected in the 80s

North Platte recorded the high temperature in the state Sunday with a reading of 95 and also had 02 of an inch of rain while Sidney had the low Sunday night with 56

Other rainfall figures are

Lexington	85	Grand Island	12
Valentine	50	Concordia	34
Scottsbluff	12

Weather Is Now Being Predicted by Districts

The Weather Bureau has begun to give the Nebraska forecast in districts A separate forecast will be given for each district

The districts are Sandhills, Platte Valley South, and Eastern Nebraska

JOHN EVERETT LEWIS

13-Year-Old Drowns at Muny Pool

First 1953 Swim Death in Lincoln

John Everett Lewis 13 son of Mr and Mrs Orville E Lewis of 3540 Mohawk drowned Sunday while swimming with a companion in the Municipal Swimming Pool 23rd and M

Firemen who answered the call for a resuscitator at 7 45 p m applied it for 30 minutes at the pool in the ambulance en route to St Elizabeth Hospital, and for another half hour at the hospital, but the boy was never revived

Dr F I Rose attending physician, said the boy was dead upon arrival at the hospital

* * *

POLICE SAID young Lewis and Jay Worley, 13, of 4235 Washington, had entered the pool at 4 p m Sunday Jay told police he saw John make a surface dive at about 7 40 p m, and later saw the boy on his hands and knees on the bottom of the pool in the deep water section

Worley summoned Lifeguard James Lowell, 19 of 904 So 17th, and Lowell located the boy's body with the aid of a pair of goggles

Another lifeguard, Marvin Deal, 19, of 5334 Madison, informed Pool Manager Bernard Galloway, who called the Fire Department rescue squad then went to help Lowell apply artificial respiration

* * *

THE DEATH was the first caused by drowning in Lincoln so far this year, and the first in the Municipal Pool for eight years

Young Lewis was a Lincoln Journal carrier on Route 75

He is survived by his parents a brother, Barton, at home, and grandmothers Mrs Leona Johnson of Lincoln and Mrs Alice B Lewis of Kearney

City Recreation Director James Lewis said the last drowning in the Municipal Pool was that of a soldier in 1945

There were 1 577 paid admissions at Muny Pool Sunday, besides about 200 season ticket swimmers At the time of the boy's drowning there were an estimated two or three hundred persons in the pool

Feeling Is Top Korean May Agree

PANMUNJOM Korea (AP)—The U N command has decided to sign an armistice agreement with the Communists despite President Syngman Rhee's opposition reliable sources said

Agreement on the armistice is believed imminent with the actual signing ceremony taking place in only a few days

Americans on the truce team are hoping Rhee will go along with the final agreement and there is growing optimism that he will

Reliable sources who informed United Press the U N had made its decision to go ahead with or without Rhee's approval said the United States had gone to great lengths to calm the South Korean president

* * *

IN ADDITION to the report from reliable sources, there were other signs that an end to the fighting in Korea is near

Lt Gen Maxwell D Taylor, Eighth Army commander cautioned his troops Sunday not to be lulled into believing they can go home just because an armistice is about to be signed

Allied and Communist liaison officers held a mysterious 19-minute conference in the truce hut, indicating A-day is in sight

* * *

ANOTHER SIGN of an imminent armistice was the increased activity in the United Nations base at nearby Munsan where doctors, medics and troops poured in to take over "big switch," the exchange of 80,000 Communist war prisoners for 12 000 Allied captives, including Maj Gen William Dean

Peiping said one team of staff officers was still working on a map—evidently of the cease fire line The other team, which has been working out final details of the prisoner exchange, appeared with maps for the first time, the broadcast said

SOUTH KOREANS KEEP RIOTING—South Koreans staging anti-truce demonstrations in Seoul for a fourth straight day as Allied and Communist negotiators worked to put the armistice terms in final form, gathered in front of the correspondents billets. While there were no reports of violence, the demonstrators stormed past a line of metropolitan police to reach the billet gates. (AP Wirephoto)

Some ROK Units Are Sealed Off

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—U N planes turned the east central front into an inferno in a vain attempt to stop Communist troops who pushed the South Koreans back two miles in a pre-armistice drive toward the 38th parallel

Reports from the front indicated that some South Korean units had been cut off and were trying to fight their way back to their own lines

Flying in shuttle runs, the planes took off in flights that varied from one plane to 20. They churned a 30-mile square area into dust and rubble

The planes pounded the Red-held area with 2,225,000 pounds of bombs and napalm. Some planes flew as many as four missions during the day, unloading their bombs and returning to base for another

Returning pilots reported smoke and dust rose 9,000 feet and made damage assessment difficult

* * *

MEANWHILE, the giant Red assault continued to roll forward under the devastating aerial assault and it appeared nearly certain that several South Korean units were cut off and still fighting it out

The Red assault, launched by some 25,000 troops slowed somewhat during the day The Communists were trying to push the battleline back to the 38th parallel

Late reports said the Reds had knifed about two miles into ROK positions on the east central front.

Casualties continued to mount steadily Figures from the combined U S Third and Ninth ROK division defense of Boomerang Hill, northwest of Kumhwa where the Reds hit with 3,000 men, showed 597 Chinese had been killed and wounded

* * *

INCOMPLETE REPORTS from the Christmas Hill area, where nine separate Red probes were pushed back, said 113 Communists were killed, 38 estimated killed and 48 wounded.

Lt Gen Maxwell D. Taylor, Eighth Army commander, flew to the fiery front to get a first-hand report of the big Red offensive that could delay signing of an armistice or give the Communists an advantage on the battlefield when the cease fire is called

Lt Gen Pak Sun Yup, South Korean army chief of staff, went to the front for the first time since returning from the U S last week

The fighting exploded as staff officers at Panmunjom worked on final details of an armistice that will freeze the battleline

* * *

PLANES FROM four carriers and the Battleship New Jersey and Cruiser St Paul fired heavy shells into Communist positions near the east coast

It appeared the Red drive was aimed at the Pukhan River where it bends around the ROK front A successful campaign there would put the U N line on the 38th parallel which divides Korea

Clark 'Invited' To Appear at Public Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House Judiciary subcommittee voted to invite Supreme Court Justice Tom Clark to appear before it for a public hearing

Clark's name has figured in the committee's investigations of the Kansas City vote fraud case and other matters which arose while he was attorney general

Chairman Keating (R-NY) said the committee which has been probing the Justice Department for about 18 months suggested the justice come on one of three dates —June 18 19 or 20

* * *

HE ADDED THAT the group voted not to make public the details of the letter

Keating also declined to say what the committee vote was on the matter

The meeting was attended by Rep Chauncey Reed (R-Ill), chairman of the full Judiciary committee

Others present were Reps Hillings (R-Calif), Jones (R-Ill) and Rogers (D-Colo)

* * *

KEATING SAID he voted to send the letter

Jones said he did too "after I had something to do with its compilation"

Rep Willis (D-La) the other minority member of the subcommittee, did not attend the session which came during the noon recess of an inquiry into the Justice Department's handling of tax scandals in the San Francisco area

Ball Park Club Appeals Beer Issue

Beer at Sherman Field is not a dead issue

The Lincoln Baseball Club Inc has appealed a State Liquor Commission denial of an outside beer license for the club and a public hearing on the matter has been set for June 24

The result was a unanimous meeting on the license When it came up for recommendation before the Lancaster County Commissioners more than 100 citizens jammed the county courtroom at the courthouse to voice their opinion on beer at the baseball park

The resule was a unanimous recommendation by the commissioners that the liquor commission deny the license which it did

City-County Building Site Big Question

By MARJORIE MARLETTE
Journal Courthouse Reporter

Where should a joint city-county building be located?

Now that the Legislature has passed an enabling act under which Lancaster County and the City of Lincoln may finance a joint building by a private authority, the next step is the formation of a committee to study the idea

Then will come consideration of three major problems financing, consolidating, and—probably the most controversial—location

The committee, possibly a private citizens' body, possibly an officially appointed group, will study all the problems of a joint building and decide on a plan of action

* * *

THOUGH the difficulties of financing and consolidating city-county offices will be high on the list of sticklers, location of the structure will probably cause the greatest public interest and the greatest controversy

At this point few officials or businessmen want to be quoted definitely on the subject But it is known that they differ considerably

One of the most popular proposed sites is 15th and N—if the auditorium squabble can be settled and the auditorium built elsewhere

City Councilmen Pat Ash and Rees Wilkinson both feel that 15th street would be a central location So does Councilman Hugh Thorne who suggests The 15th and N site would be fine if the auditorium is not built there I am not suggesting that it is not the proper auditorium site, however"

* * *

AS FOR OTHER sites, some City Hall residents would like to tear down the present building and build a new structure there, while a number of Courthouse officials favor the present Courthouse block as the best location

Though it has been suggested that the Rogers Tract at 33rd and O would be a spacious site most officials feel that location is too far out

Businessmen voicing little comment publicly, seem to be split on location of the joint building but are agreed with all local officials that Lincoln - Lancaster County should definitely have one

* * *

THE PROBLEM of financing may be solved by the legislative bill enabling the county and city to appoint a commission to finance a joint building by issuing revenue bonds The act itself, however does not establish any such authority and it will be up to Lincoln and Lancaster County to decide if that is the method they want

Financing could also be effected by floating joint bonds or by issuing separate bonds and each subdivision building in effect, half of the joint structure.

Consolidation of city-county offices, highlighted recently by talks of merging the city-county treasuries and jails, will bring on a whole series of little problems

But with interest in the project running high, and with the enabling act already passed, officials hope that something definite can be done soon to make the building a reality.

Tax Haul Can't Stop Deficit

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government made its second biggest tax haul of the year Monday as individuals and corporations met the deadline for quarterly income tax payments

Although June 15 ranks second only to March 15 in tax collections, officials said the billions pouring into treasury coffers from all parts of the country will not head off a whopping deficit for the current 1953 fiscal year

When the books are closed on June 30, the government will be about $8 billion in the red

That will be the biggest deficit since World War II, more than $2 million higher than former President Truman estimated just before he left office last January

The Eisenhower administration is now aiming at balancing the budget in fiscal 1955

State Roads To Plan for Bigger Loads

State Engineer L N Ress says the Highway Department will begin immediately to revise primary highway planning to conform with heavier loads authorized by the passage of the overweight truck tolerance bill by the Legislature

He predicted construction costs will increase as a result of the new law and consequently fewer miles of highway will be built The thickness of concrete in new highways will have to be increased at least an inch, Ress said and the blacktop formula strengthened

The overweight tolerance bill was passed over the governor's veto, and will become effective in September Trucks may then carry 5 per cent more weight per axle and 3 per cent additional weight before being declared overweight and fined

However, the bill provides for heavier overloading penalties, ranging from $50 to $500 It also provides that overweight cargo must be reduced to within legal limits before the truck can proceed

The Safety Patrol will have completed 12 new truck-weighing stations by the end of September and patrol strength will by then have been increased

Drowning Victim's Body Recovered

FREMONT (AP)—Sheriff Pelham McGee said the body of Delbert Blair, 40, of Fremont has been recovered from the Elkhorn river

McGee said Blair's body was recovered Monday when it came to the surface some distance below the point where the accident occurred Saturday night

Members of the Blair family said Blair and a younger brother, Bill, were fishing on the high south bank of the river and that Blair's dog had pushed the younger brother off the bank into the river

Blair told him to swim across to the other side and dived in after him, but about half-way across the river he called for help

The family said the younger brother swam back to help him and had almost succeeded in reaching the shore with him when he lost his grip and Delbert Blair sank

Blair worked at the Nebraska Ordnance Plant at Mead

Survivors include his wife, small twin sons, and one daughter

Two Iowa Scouts Found Alive In Desolate Arizona Canyon

Compiled from News Wires

TUCSON, Ariz — Two Boy Scouts lost since last Wednesday in Nakai canyon in Northern Arizona were found alive Monday by two Navajo Indians, the Civil Air Patrol reported

The information was released by Mrs Dines Nelson, wife of the commander of the Arizona Wing of the Civil Air Patrol

The same report was picked up by radio by the Civil Air Patrol in Prescott, Ariz

Condition of the youths Bud McIntire, 15, and Phil Crowley, 16, both of Des Moines, Ia, could not be immediately ascertained

The two set out with a canteen of water and no food to look for lost cliff dwellings inside Naikai Canyon They were members of a party of 40 Iowa Boy Scouts who stopped at the Betatakin National Monument in this desolte Navajo reservation land

Lt Col James Birkel chief of the C A P rescue operation, had feared the boys would not have much of a chance of surviving in the rough hot, unchartered country without food and water

At this time of the year, he said, it was unlikely the youths could find anything but a few berries to e There also is a poison inside the canyon from he feared the boys might drink.

Atom Spies Denied Stay of Execution

Lawyer for Defense Makes 1 More Desperate Maneuver

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court Monday denied a stay of execution to atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg. Then, just as the court was about to recess for the summer, a defense lawyer stepped forward dramatically and made one more desperate maneuver to save the doomed couple.

Minutes after the tribunal denied the stay and refused for the fourth time to review the celebrated case, associate defense lawyer John F. Finerty got up in the court room and pleaded with the court to issue an original writ of habeas corpus.

Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson promised the court will give "prompt consideration" to the new move and curtly told Finerty to withdraw.

* * *

FINERTY'S MOVE—like almost countless prior legal maneuvers—was aimed at stalling the execution, now set for Thursday night.

In New York, Federal District Judge Irving R. Kaufman denied a writ of habeas corpus to produce the condemned couple in court and denied a stay of execution for them.

Chief Defense Lawyer Emanuel H. Bloch said he would make the rounds of the Supreme Court justices Monday afternoon in another effort to get a stay of execution.

If this and the petition for a writ of habeas corpus fail, he said the condemned couple again will ask President Eisenhower for executive clemency.

* * *

THE ROSENBERGS are scheduled to die in the Sing Sing electric chair at 9 p.m. CST, Thursday—their 14th wedding anniversary.

Finerty said the request for a habeas corpus writ was based on a statement by atomic energy expert Harold Urey and the Rosenbergs' claim that one of the witnesses in their trial committed perjury.

* * *

THE ROSENBERGS were convicted in March, 1951, of conspiring to slip atomic secrets to Russia, but had managed to delay their doom through a series of legal maneuvers.

The court Monday also rejected a fourth petition for review by Morton Sobell, co-conspirator of the Rosenbergs, who drew a 30-year prison sentence.

ALMOST 7,000 demonstrators paraded before the executive mansion Sunday in what police described as the largest crowd to picket the White House in recent years.

'Book Burners' Will Find Area Has Good Balance

The "book burners," whom President Eisenhower criticized so severely in his recent Dartmouth College commencement address, apparently have made no progress in Lincoln or surrounding communities.

The President's tongue lashing followed on the heels of the recent State Department directive to ban certain allegedly Communist books from the shelves of U.S. libraries abroad.

Charles Dalrymple Jr., director of the Lincoln City libraries, said the libraries had no absolutely complete coverage of books on Communism, but that they had "a good, standard representation of books" on the subject.

* * *

"SOME BOOKS represent viewpoints explaining the Communist theory," he said, "and others are favorably inclined toward Communism."

But he explained the libraries attempt to keep "balance" in their collections.

"Whenever we receive a book favorable toward Communism, we get two books in refutation of the arguments by the first author."

* * *

DALRYMPLE explained that no book is excluded from the libraries because of the author's race, religion or political views. "All our material," he said, "is chosen for informaiton, public interest and enlightenment."

"But we d o have a selective process," Dalrymple said. "We eliminate any book that is a definite damning of our system of government.' And before accepting a book we carefully check the author's qualifications and determine whether the book is published by a reliable publisher."

* * *

DALRYMPLE said there never had been any undue pressure for censorship of books in Lincoln. He added he was "assured" by the President's remarks.

Charles H. Miller, public service librarian at the University of Nebraska, said any citizen of the state could read any of the library's literature on Communism.

He said he knew of no pressure for censorship.

Miller said the library contained a number of books banned by the State Department in two Far Eastern posts, Calcutta and Bombay.

* * *

INCLUDED were "Mission to Moscow," by Joseph E. Davies, "Union Now," by Clarence Streit, "The Stilwel Papers," by the late Gen. Joseph Stilwell, and the Lynds" classic, "Middletown in Transition."

Two magazines taken from the shelves in libraries aboard—"The New Republic" and "The Nation"—are available at the university library.

Miller said he considered the State Department's directive "extremely short-sighted."

Miss Marporie Stuff, librarian at Nebraska Wesleyan University, said the library did not have a large collection of books on Communism because the library was a small one.

"But there is no censorship of the books we do have available on the subject," she said.

Miss Floda Smith at Union College said their library had a number of books discussing Communism—including the Communist Manifesto and Karl Marx's "Das Kapital."

She said the library's collection included Isaac Deutscher's biography of Stalin, another book banned in U.S. libraries abroad.

Concordia College at Seward has nearly all the books banned in libraries abroad. Miss Renata Koschmann said there was no limitation on the books students could read.

Miss Ruth Kramer, head librarian at Doane College in Crete, said the library had a number of books available on Communism.

"Our collection is a small one," she said, "but this is because we are a small library, not because we are restricted to the books we may have on our shelves."

She cited the statement of the American Library Council which said the presence of books on library shelves did not mean the libraries advocated the ideas expressed by the authors.

Jeary Presents Departmental Shift Resolution

Backed by majority Council agreement, Mayor Clark Jeary has presented a resolution transferring the Park and Recreation departments from the Department of Public Works, headed by D. L. Erickson, to the Department of Public Safety under Ray Osborn.

Transfers would be effective July 1.

* * *

IT IS NOT a merger of the two departments but a co-operative move, Jeary said. He will ask, he added, that the two advisory boards meet jointly, either as a whole or through sub-committees.

The Park advisory board will be brought in tune with the Recreation group through appointment of one Council member to participate. Pat Ash represents the Council on the Recreation board.

* * *

JEARY POINTED OUT that Erickson, with water expansion, construction and numerous other duties on his hands doesn't have the time for adequate contact with parks and recreation programs. On the other hand, Osborn, he believes, is in better position to take over.

"Osborn will be asked to bring the two activities closer co-operation," Jeary said.

Church Unit Dedicated

First Presbyterian Church's $225,000 education and activities building has been officially dedicated.

At the ceremonies, Clifford J. Weston, president of the board of trustees, received the title and keys from the general contractor, Walter Broer, and the architect, Ben F. Hemphill.

Landons at NU Summer Session

There are five rural school teachers—all named Landon, all from Sherman County, all attending the University of Nebraska summer session, and all agree on two major problems needing attention in rural and small town schools.

With a combined record of 45 years of teaching, the Landons—four sisters and a sister-in-law—have taught an accumulated total of 450 young minds.

Erma, Florence, Alta and Dorothy, are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Landon. The fifth Landon is Betty, wife of their brother, Donald. The two major problems they see are:

1. Redistricting. Says Alta: "Many parents oppose redistricting because it will mean travel for the youngsters. . . But it is not fair . . . to ask (pupils) to get all their grade school instruction from one teacher in a room where pupils vary in age from 5 to 14. . ."

2. Rural district storm protection. Says Betty: "If we should have a tornado . . . while school was on, about all we could do would be to run for a road ditch. I don't know of a rural school that has adequate protection."

A crowd of about 800 saw the sixth annual Flag Day Massing of the Colors at Pinewood Bowl.

Maj. Charles W. Wakefield, a chaplain at Offutt Air Force Base, was speaker.

"The flag we honor tonight is a beacon to a darkening world. We must dedicate ourselves anew to a faith in ourselves, our country and to our Almighty God," he said.

The twilight ceremonies opened with a parade of flags carried by representatives of 37 different organizations.

Music was supplied by the Burlington band, Shrine sextet and American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps.

Chaplain T. R. Jones of Lincoln Veterans Hospital gave the invocation.

Adjourning Aim Still Is July 31

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's congressional leaders said today they "still think" Congress will adjourn by July 31 until next year.

House Speaker Joseph W. Martin, Jr. (Mass.) reported the leaders' views after they met for 90 minutes at the White House. He thought Congress could finish its business July 31 and not have to return.

Martin said there was no discussion of the tax situation at the conference with the President, nor was there any talk about changes in the Taft-Hartley law.

Legislative leaders feel the Republication program is "beginning to roll" through Congress.

Propaganda Object Of Red Offensive

Telling Home Folks Truce May Forestall 'Knock-Out'

By ERNIE HILL
Lincoln Journal-Chicago Daily News Foreign Service

TOKYO — The Chinese Communists are trying to kid the home folks into believing that they were just about to win the Korean War when the U N hollered "uncle" and signed an armistice

Hill

Radio Peking is advertising the big offensive of the past 48 hours as "a knockout blow that may be forestalled by U N. agreement to a ceasefire"

The Chinese obviously are trying to create the impression at home that they were rolling to victory when the U N sued for peace.

Gen. Mark Clark's headquarters here is still confident that the final touches on the armistice may come at any time The hard-hitting Communist offensive on the Eastern front is not taken too seriously.

* * *

IT IS REGARDED as largely psychological for propaganda purposes everywhere inside the iron curtain

The two-mile advance on the Eastern Front was largely at the expense of South Korean units Military observers here regard this as a Communist effort to deflate President Syngman Rhee's statements about "going it alone" against the Communists if a truce is signed

Most of the smashes have been aimed at ROK units although Americans have been called in to support ROKs in several spots

* * *

REPORTS FROM administrative officers working at Panmunjom indicate that they are about to complete agreement in tracing the cease fire line Both sides must pull their troops back two kilometers from this line

The general belief here is that the truce may be ready for signature about the end of the week

At Munsan the U N is rushing preparation for prisoner exchange The same area and the same procedure will be followed as was used in exchange of sick and wounded in April

* * *

RADIO PEKING is stating that the Korean War will end unless Rhee defies the U N and refuses to abide by the ceasefire Rhee's angry statements are being broadcast with Communist interpretations

Radio Peking states that the North Koreans drove the South Koreans south at the beginning of the war and are doing it again

These psychological broadcasts are interpreted here as indication that the Reds expect the war to end quickly since the Communists would be unable to sustain the attacks stated in the last 48 hours

Mayor Names Committee to Study Costs

A move looking to a better understanding on the part of the public concerning special improvement costs gained foothold through introduction of a resolution in the City Council by Mayor Clark Jeary of a resolution creating an improvement cost committee.

He nominated the following members:

Henry Maser, grocer, representing West Lincoln.

Raymond Cederdahl, University Place, representing Northeast Lincoln, food institution manager, chairman.

Prof. M. L. Ewinger, engineering, University of Nebraska.

Cowan Moore, accountant, Southeast Lincoln.

Richard Schmidt, College View area lumber yard manager.

The appointments are effective July 1 and for two years. The committee is to make studies of cost estimates made by the engineer on public improvements contracted for by the city and to make cost comparisons with other cities of similar size. It will report with recommendations based on findings of fact as the work progresses.

"I feel that, geographically, this gives the city a fine representation," Jeary said. "The committee will attempt to ascertain whether or not estimates are fair. The public is entitled to assurance that prices are right."

Some contractors allegedly have complained that the engineer is too low with estimates on some occasions. During the recent local campaign there were also references to paving costs here and elsewhere.

In his resolution Jeary did not make any public reference to the campaign or to paving costs.

WILLIAM SWANSON

Real Estate Group Names Swanson Head

William Swanson of Lincoln was announced as new director of the State Real Estate Department.

His appointment was made by the State Real Estate Commission. Swanson has been acting director since the May 1 resignation of Ervin Luedtke.

Luedtke resigned after the Legislature "divorced" the State Real Estate Department from the State Real Estate Association, a private trade association. Luedtke is still with the association.

Swanson has been with the Department 5½ years. He was graduated from the University of Nebraska in 1947.

A native of Sutton, the unmarried, 30-year-old Swanson served with the tank corps in North Africa during World War II. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Guy E. Swanson of Sutton.

After his appointment as director, Swanson said, "I appreciate the confidence expressed in me and will endeavor to do the job that needs to be done in this office."

Sentence Deferred on Check Forgery Charge

Sentence has been deferred on Richard M. Campbell, 40, of Lincoln, who pleaded guilty in Lancaster District Court to forging a $225 check May 7, 1953, on a North Platte bank.

Campbell first changed his plea from not guilty to guilty in county court, then was rearraigned before District Judge Harry Spencer, who ordered an investigation before passing sentence.

The defendant has been in jail since May 20 awaiting trial after he entered his original not guilty plea.

Underwriters Set Meeting

A new organization whose purpose it is to provide a common meeting ground for insurance company underwriters will have its first meeting at 6 p.m. Monday at the Lincoln Hotel.

Called the Nebraska Fire and Casualty Underwriters Association, the group includes representatives from 14 insurance companies in Lincoln, Omaha and Seward.

"Our purpose is to bring about a clearer understanding of the problems of underwriters," Merritt Anderson of State Farm Mutual said.

Herman Reifschneider of Union Fire is president of the new organization. Other officers:

Merritt Anderson, vice president
Mrs. Theresa Mills of Nebraska Farm Mutual, secretary-treasurer
Eldon Daly of Capitol Fire, executive officer.

Committee to Study Capitol Air Conditioning

A four-member committee has been appointed by the governor to investigate the possibility of air conditioning for more Statehouse offices.

Administrative Assistant Max Denney said the governor's office has been informed that plumbing and wiring at the Statehouse could not handle more air conditioning units.

However, the committee was appointed to give the matter a more thorough study. Some offices already have air conditioning units.

Members of the committee are Aeronautics Director James Ramsey, Banking Director J. L. McLain, Liquor Commission Chairman Tal Coonrad and Custodian John Knickrehm.

Benson Asks the Farmers

It will be no surprise to anyone that Secretary Benson finds present farm programs "not good enough" since in almost his first official utterance he deplored the price support system and the necessity for carrying it on through the crop year. The programs inherited from the Democratic regime create surpluses, he has been saying in recent speeches, price U.S. farm products out of various markets, and hold the threat of government regimentation of farmers.

Now he wants the farmers to say how they would tackle the problems of declining farm incomes, shrinking exports and mounting surpluses. He has asked the three great farm organizations to poll their members between July 1 and Dec. 31, and the Farm Bureau and Grange have generally applauded his criticism and have agreed to take polls, says a Benson aide, but the Farmers Union hasn't yet done so.

It isn't that the farmers aren't vocal—they have been submitting suggestions to the secretary ever since he took office, and a digest of their views is promised the agricultural advisory committee named in January by the President to confer with Mr. Benson. What he wants now is a detailed and non-partisan approach to their problems.

What would they think of two-price systems under which surpluses could be offered abroad at cut rates regularly, instead of haphazardly as occasion suggests? Do they want price insurance and production controls? Are they satisfied with present farm loan requirements? Do they approve soil conservation in general, and do they think they should be subsidized for carrying on the required practices?

The secretary's final suggestion—how to help "underemployed" farm families, those with farms too small to provide them a good living—may sound a bit surprising in the rich farming areas of the Middle West. But if it is a real problem it should be aired along with the rest. Seldom if ever has the opinion of so many citizens been asked on such a tremendous matter, affecting an industry that underlies all the rest, that is basic not only to the nation's everyday life but to its importance among all the powers.

If the giant poll works out as Mr. Benson hopes, the information it harvests will be vitally interesting, and also quite likely to embody a number of surprises. Let the farmer speak out: he won't lack an audience.

A MOMENT'S THOUGHT

John 5: 24

Despair Grips Koreans

No matter what sort of truce is finally made and how well it is enforced, the people of South Korea are so beaten down by what has been poured upon them for three years that they will only see themselves as defeated, say foreigners on the scene. Should Communist representatives be allowed to come into their country, as they would under the truce terms as now outlined, "the South Koreans would feel in their simplicity," writes a New York Times man on the scene, "that the war had been lost, and such Communist agents would come as victors." They cannot see a cease-fire as evidence that the Communists have found the war unprofitable and wish for a time to concentrate on other fields. To them the argument that a United Nations move on North Korea would be exactly the same sort of aggression as was that against their country, means nothing. That is why even the children are demonstrating hysterically, while their elders are too apathetic to join in.

The truce will of course not mean peace unless the Communists want it to, as their pacifying conduct in other areas seems to indicate. It is, so far as it goes, the best evidence that the United Nations defense has for a time held back the threat against the whole peninsula, and the consequent advantage to the enemy against Japan. The utter weariness and despair of the South Korean people is to be chalked up against Communism as another of its crimes against humanity. The free world will hope that these brave people can have a long enough respite to enable them to pull themselves together and start forward again.

Let Them Eat Butter

The suggestion of visiting European agricultural editors that the U.S. get rid of its enormous butter surplus by eating it, shows them up as rather naive. They don't seem to realize how we operate, comments the Kansas City Star. First we have to have a parity figure, and if housewives won't pay it at the market, the government must buy butter to keep up the price, and then store it. When the storage space is filled and the butter is past its first youth, we try giving it away to school lunch programs or other benefactors. The suggestion that we eat all that butter ourselves would have to be fully investigated, which means it must first be referred to the proper committee. How can anybody get mixed up on anything so simple? Of course it couldn't be that we are a trifle confused.

Moscow, Get Ready

When Perle Mesta, one time Madame Ambassadrice to Luxembourg, took off from London the other day for a visit in Moscow, she announced that she had left her social calendar completely blank, without a single advance engagement. That put the responsibility squarely up to the Russians, and they will do well not to scrimp on it. Mme. Mesta is not the woman to sit quietly in a hotel every evening, and she is accustomed to getting her own way. Besides, the government did invite her. Of course they too are a little on the strict side, but if anybody has to give in a little here and there, it probably won't be the lady. Whatever happens, she can be counted on to bring home a good story about it.

Luncheon With the Enemy

WASHINGTON—It is odd to find oneself seated at a table with the enemy. It is even odder to find that the enemy is a small rather nervous man, with a thin face, long, honey-colored hair, a smart double-breasted gabardine suit, and a fondness for Lucky Strike cigarettes and Seagram's VO whisky. This is how the enemy looked, when the first secretary of the Soviet Embassy agreed to lunch with one of these reporters.

Stewart Alsop

"People do not like to be seen with us Russians," Mr. Fedoseev remarked as the luncheon began. "This is why I was so surprised when you telephoned me." Mr. Fedoseev was not alone in his surprise. It is a Washington reporter's job to talk to diplomats—any diplomats. But no Soviet diplomat had ever before agreed to meet a "congenital murderer," as Andrei Vishinsky once described these reporters.

Yet, across the endless gulf which stretched out across the small restaurant table, the luncheon was a rather genial occasion. Mr. Fedoseev volunteered an admiration for American literature. He had even, he remarked, taught his young daughter some American literature—"Your famous poem, 'I shoot an arrow into the hair.'"

Everybody in Russia, he said, learned American literature, "like your great poem, Hiawatha." He had learned this masterpiece himself, as a boy in Leningrad. The remark evoked a curious mental image of endless ranks of little Russian boys, solemnly reciting in unison "On the Shores of Gitche Gumee."

As the level steadily dropped in Mr. Fedoseev's glass of Seagram's and soda (which he had firmly ordered when offered a Martini) a curious dual image of the man began to appear. On the one hand, there was a human being. Like other human beings, Mr. Fedoseev was clearly fond of his only daughter. Like other human beings, he was worried by such matters as the rent of his apartment—"terribly, terribly high." Like other human beings, he was proud of his country—there was a note of perfectly genuine pride in his voice when he said, "Before the revolution Russia was a backward country. Is not a backward country now, no?"

* * *

The Official Fedoseev

On the other hand, there was the official Fedoseev, the product of his system. The contact established between one human being and another was instantly broken when political matters came to the fore. The tone of the conversation remained good-humored, but the minds of the two participants were separated not by a table top, but by half a world. Then the talk became a futile game of check and doublecheck:

"Who, after all, started the cold war?" Mr. Fedoseev asked complacently, as if there could be no doubt about the answer.

"You did," was the reply, "when you supplied the Greek Communist guerillas."

"No, no, you did. The Fulton speech. Even earlier."

"You're right. It was earlier, when you failed to remove your troops from Azerbaijan."

"And who has troops in foreign countries now? There are no Russian troops in Korea."

"You started the Korean war, and you know it."

Once or twice the dialogue became so obviously futile, that both participants shrugged and dropped the subject. But Mr. Fedoseev, his superiors will be glad to know, was persistent, clever, and well prepared. He was obviously a student, not only of the minor American classics, but of the American press.

* * *

Some Quotes

He quoted Sen. McCarthy: "Your Sen. McCarthy does not like us, no? But he has said that the United Nations Security Council decisions on Korea was illegal—just what we have said all along." He quoted Secretary of Defense Wilson: "Your Secretary Wilson says our military arrangements are purely defensive and that you Americans need only fear our Russian ideas." Above all, he quoted Sir Winston Churchill, whose speech calling for an East-West meeting he seemed to have learned by heart: "As Churchill said, in negotiating it is necessary to consider not only the security of the West, but also the security of the East."

At times, he sounded a little like a cat attempting to reassure a nervous canary. "Why do you fear us?" he asked. "An atmosphere of fear is bad for businesslike negotiations. Our policy is a policy of peace." Or again: "There is no reason between us for a war. We are the only two great powers which have never fought. Did we burn down the White House in 1812?"

The reply was obvious—"Some day you might do a damn sight worse than burn down our White House." But the luncheon ended on a good-humored note, as Mr. Fedoseev noisily shook hands, and said, "Next time, it must be on me."

Probably there will be no next time. Enemies do not often or easily break bread together, and it is not much use to do so when there can be no real contact between each other. But as Mr. Fedoseev's small figure disappeared, walking rapidly and nervously towards the Soviet Embassy, it seemed a pity that this should be so. It seemed a pity that the system which Mr. Fedoseev serves, which imperils freedom and may one day imperil the very existence of the United States, should have transformed this rather nice little man into the enemy.

Cruel and Unusual

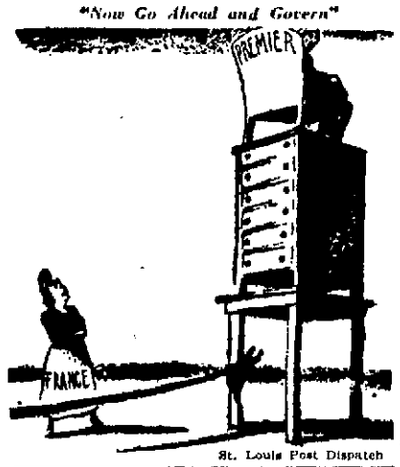
"Now Go Ahead and Govern"



St. Louis Post Dispatch

MORE OR LESS PERSONAL

— A Chat with the EDITOR —

On the day the Legislature adjourned, two of the more highly-respected senators from outstate were asked how many members of the Legislature they could honestly rate as "good legislators," after having worked through the unicameral's longest session.

* * *

One counted 15. The other counted 17. It is a tribute to the voters of the 18th, 19th and 20th Districts, as well as to the men they elected, that all three Lancaster County senators were on both men's lists. Sen. Otto Liebers, Sen. Robert McNutt and Sen. Howard Britt all earned the respect of their colleagues. All three worked much harder than the average senator—being in Lincoln and accessible to their constituents doesn't make a Lincoln senator's job any easier. And at no time was the intellectual honesty of any of them questioned. Sen. Liebers had a virtually perfect batting average on bills he introduced. McNutt got his name on at least two special interest bills (eyeglass, and massage bills) which the Legislature rejected. But his Judiciary Committee and Legislative Council school lands committee measures had clear sailing.

Some Bouquets

* * *

Sen. Britt didn't get very far with his ton-mile tax on trucks—but he was bucking the strongest lobby of recent years, the truckers. Serving his first term in the Legislature, and with no previous experience in public office, he did an unusually conscientious job, and once he had made up his mind on the merits of a matter, was not to be shaken.

* * *

Meanwhile from the two ends of the state the brickbats had begun to fly almost before the 43 senators had had time to get home. The Alliance Times-Herald commented that "if this session . . . hasn't convinced Nebraskans that something is the matter with their system of legislation—then we are more stubborn than Missourians." Its criticism: "Too few men are asked to handle too much legislation," and "there is a complete lack of leadership." The Legislature, said the Times-Herald, "is too small and too uncommitted (some call it independent) to be effective." Its proposed remedies: A larger membership, and a referendum to restore partisan responsibility, so that "men elected along party lines will be obligated to carry out the will of the people."

And Brickbats

* * *

At the other end of the state the Nebraska City News-Press was attacking the Legislature's susceptibility to lobbyists. "Senator Norris, the daddy of the one-house . . . Legislature, predicted no lobbyists and a much higher grade of solons if we would adopt this unicameral system," it recalled. But "we have more lobbyists than ever, and the intellectual quality is something that could be debated in any rural literary society meeting . . . So long as voters take so little interest in unicameral timber we shall have mediocrity at Lincoln . . . The truckers' and liquor interests' lobbyists who swarmed around the Statehouse like the historic swarms of Egyptian locusts, were ten times as smart as the men they were there to buttonhole. And, it should be added, better paid!"

* * *

An appropriations item to be decided in Washington this week is whether the Army Engineers shall be given $2.5 million to spend this year on trying to stabilize the Missouri River between Sioux City and Omaha—a "wild" stretch of the river that has defied past efforts, at great public cost, to tie it down. The $2.5 million is described as a one-year starter on a project whose total cost is estimated at $9 million, by the Army Engineers who have underestimated the cost of taming the Missouri before. When a delegation from Omaha went to Washington to protest the elimination of this item, not a single Omaha voice was raised against their mission.

'True Believers'

* * *

This same week, however, it may also be decided in Washington whether while it continues to spend several hundred millions on major river projects, the federal government should also invest $5 million this coming year on upstream soil and water conservation and flood prevention on small tributaries in 29 states, and at the very thought of this Omaha howls about boondoggling.

* * *

It says "true believers in soil conservation" don't want this. That depends what you mean by a "true believer." The National Association of Soil Conservation Districts, comprising the farmer-elected supervisors of locally-governed conservation boards throughout the nation, wants it. They are the ones who are practicing soil and moisture conservation on their own farms, which is a good enough measure for me of a "true believer."

Fast Pace

BLAIR—The pace gets too fast for me. I'm about to place our new governor in nomination for Mr. Courageous Politician of the year, following his veto of the unfortunate truck tolerance legislation and his forthright stand on appointing himself a one man committee to take steps to correct known state tax evasion, when he ups and says like any run of the mill politician that the Legislature which just folded its tent and sneaked for home, was one of the most constructive he, Mr. Crosby, has known of. How tragic!

Every state senator, including boisterous Carpenter, who voted for LB 114 (increased tolerance on trucks) should be defeated in their inevitable try for re-election. Our history may never again record a group who so completely "sold the people down the river," like this one did. There was a complete lack of stature in this bunch of third-rate, ham and egg variety, ward politicians. We heard a lot about the Washington "mess" last fall. It is high time that the people of this state take serious cognizance of the Unicameral "mess" in the questionable white spot of the nation.

The newspapers of this state will be remiss in their duty if they do not take the leadership in unifying the people of this state in a movement to depose the "rascals" who have foisted themselves upon the gullible of this state.

DEWEY NEMETZ

Tolerance Law

LINCOLN—Why pay more gas taxes and higher fees when truckers will ruin the roads by the tolerance law? If I understand the newspaper reports, that law allows 3 per cent increase in weight. Big fines will not replace 100 miles of concrete ruined by a heavy truck. Coffey says you can't weigh a load properly all the time because of weight not being equally distributed and more weight may be on one wheel. But overweight is overweight whether it is on one wheel or 10.

R. JOHNS

Auditorium Location

LINCOLN—Regarding the auditorium location, there are several important things to be considered.

All buses converge into the center of Lincoln whereas only one bushne goes out to 33rd and O. Also the auditorium should be close to depots, railroads and bus stations and close to the largest number of hotels. The controversy so far has been solely on car parking without giving thought to more definite reasons, as I have suggested, why the auditorium should be located near the center of the city.

R. A. DANSKIN

Educational Campaign

COZAD — Ezra Taft Benson, secretary of agriculture, is widely quoted Friday in Nebraska newspapers on policies and procedures which he believes will give the nation's agriculture a healthy economy at fair prices for consumers and fair prices for farmers.

In his talk before the Nebraska Stock Growers Association in Omaha Thursday (June 11), Secretary Benson is quoted as saying that "we know the kind of agriculture we want; we want an agriculture that will provide abundance of farm and forest products for our people to use—not to pile up in storage."

Then the distinguished secretary of agriculture concludes that "We want an agriculture that will operate in a healthy economy so that farm people will have prices, incomes and a level of living on a par with prices, incomes and level of living of other groups making a comparable contribution to the nation."

While it is pointed out in the press that the National Livestock and Meat Board is raising an annual 800-thousand-dollar "kitty" for advertising and promotion of meat products consumption in the nation, it may be well for other food producing and food marketing agencies to join this type of campaign.

Our people in the United States will then continue to spend more millions on natural vitamin-rich garden and farm supplies rather than use this money on factory-made artificial vitamins in capsules and tablets.

Here is a magnificent opportunity for state and federal agricultural agencies, women's farm organizations, and health agencies, to join in an educational campaign which will improve consumption of agricultural products on a vast scale.

Even in Nebraska, through the course of years, millions of dollars of the people's income, might be drained away by eastern manufacturers of vitamin products. Reports indicate that markets for artificial vitamins have expanded enormously in the last few years. Medical science has disclosed extensive vitamin - deficiencies among our people in farm areas as well as in metropolitan districts.

The thought behind this suggestion has come to this office from an alert Cozad business-professional man, who feels that Nebraskans should find ways and means in spark-plugging this type of "health education program" for the good results which it can bring to agriculture and the people of our nation.

Sufferers From Allergy

By Dr. Walter C. Alvarez

Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic And Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation

I once had as a patient, a woman who because of a strange and puzzling form of indigestion, had gone down in weight to skin and bones. On going for two days on my narrow "elimination diet," consisting of nothing but oatmeal, lamb, rice, carrots, butter and sugar and canned pears, she found that she was perfectly comfortable. Then, on adding a new food each day, she soon discovered that what had been causing all her trouble had been corn and everything made from corn.

Dr. Alvarez

On a cornless diet she rapidly gained in weight and health, but every so often she would become ill; and then she would learn that some bakery product she had eaten had contained corn oil, or an ice cream or the filling of a chocolate eclair had contained a little cornstarch, or a candy had contained corn sugar. The woman had to study and learn of every possible place in which she might run into corn products.

The other day I thought of this woman and many others who suffer as she did, when I read of some of the many products into which licorice or an extract of licorice now goes. According to the article, each year 20,000,000 pounds of the substance goes into pipe and chewing tobaccos and cigars and cigarettes, where it produces mildness. Other thousands of pounds go into ice creams, chewing gum, porter and ale (to maintain the foam), some soft drinks, and some meat and fish sauces. Still other tons of licorice go into feeds for animals, flotation agents in mining, pickling baths for metals, etc. If a man were to become highly sensitized to licorice he would now have a hard time keeping out of its way.

Some of the large books on allergy have lists of substances containing such materials as orris root, to which many persons are highly sensitive. One of my medical friends who became very ill whenever he ingested even a drop of cottonseed oil had a hard time of it because he never could tell when or how his enemy might get at him—perhaps in a salad dressing, in a pastry, on the bottom of a parkerhouse roll, or in something fried. He finally had to give up going anywhere to dinner.

Another of my doctor friends was terribly sensitive to oysters. One day a pal of his asked him to the house for a duck dinner. He accepted only after extracting a promise from his hostess that there would be no oysters. Unfortunately, the woman had no patience with the idea of allergy; she was sure it was all in people's heads, so she went ahead and chopped a few tiny Olympia oysters into the dressing for the ducks.

That evening, a few minutes after the doctor had taken a mouthful of his duck, he turned blue, he went into shock, and fell off his chair onto the floor, unconscious and apparently dying. The only thing that saved his life was the fact that his host, subject to asthma, had a hypodermic syringe and some adrenalin handy. He quickly gave the doctor a "shot," and brought him back to consciousness.

Other friends of mine go into shock after taking a taste of clams, or of roquefort cheese in a salad dressing. I know a man who never bites into a candy: he always first pulls it in two to make sure that there isn't part of a date in it. With one bite of a date he goes into shock.

White Skin Patches

People write asking what to do for the big white patches that come on the skin of some persons—often on the arms and neck. This so-called vitiligo comes usually in the cases of young or middle-aged people. We doctor's don't know why the pigment goes; sometimes it disappears after some strong emotion or nervous shock. Skin specialists do not yet know how to bring the pigment back; fortunately, in occasional cases some of it will come back by itself.

Possibly, when a girl with this peculiarity goes out in the evening she could make the white areas less visible by the use of one of several thick cosmetic tinted creams on the market. There is a preparation called Covermark which many persons use to cover up a disfiguring mark on the face.

A little hope for these persons may come after a while because some doctors are now studying the problem. Doctors A. Bunsen Lerner and Thomas B. Fitzpatrick, of the University of Oregon Medical School recently reported that they are now hunting for something that will help and have found some encouraging leads.

ROBERT S. ALLEN Reports

Adm. Radford Hard Man to Push Around

WASHINGTON—Congress is due for an extremely interesting experience when Adm. Arthur Radford becomes chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

The omnipotent lawmakers will find he is a hard man to push around.

Allen

On that important subject, the red-headed Navy flyer has an inflexible attitude: He doesn't stand for pushing around by anyone.

Radford has resoundingly demonstrated this affirmative viewpoint on a number of occasions. A notable one was his militant leadership of the Navy's clangorous battle with the Air Force in the fall of 1949. But Radford has never had to deal intimately with Congress as will be required of him when he becomes head of the Joint Chiefs.

That will be a new venture for him and the august legislators—with this difference: He knows how he will act, but they have yet to learn about him.

However, they can get a highly informative fill-in on the matter by reading the transcript of an executive session of the Senate Appropriations Committee at which Radford expressed his opinion on the axing of the budget for the Mandate Islands in the Pacific.

He minced no words and he pulled no punches. He made it forcefully clear that he was neither awed nor beguiled by these potent senators.

Congress would be well advised, indeed, to look at this unpublished transcript. It might save the lawmakers some painful jolts in the future. They haven't been up against anyone like Radford for a long time.

He is a first-class fighting man who says what he thinks plainly and firmly at all times and to all comers.

* * *

TELLING 'EM—Radford's unpublicized appearance before the mighty Senate Appropriations Committee occurred during his recent trip to Washington when he was confirmed as Joint Chiefs' head without a dissenting vote.

His views were sought about the Mandate Islands because they were under his control before being transferred to the Interior Department. The 2,000 strategically important islands include the Marshall, Caroline and Marianas groups. Senator Guy Cordon (R-Ore) opened the discussion by asking what Radford thought of the budget cut by the House.

"Is it true the House slashed the budget for these islands by 50 per cent?" Radford asked in reply.

"They went further than that," said Cordon. "They eliminated the budget entirely."

"Well, if that's the case," declared Radford, "I guess that's the simplest way to do it if you want the natives to go back to eating coconuts and taro. That's exactly what will happen if the House's action is permitted to stand. Personally, it is my belief that the full amount asked for in the original Truman budget isn't enough for this highly important administrative responsibility."

"What do you expect the government to do out there?" demanded Cordon.

"I expect the government to keep its commitments to both the natives and the United Nations," retorted Radford. "Sure, you can cut funds, and you can also stop training teachers for the natives' schools and as doctors and dentists. You can do that and a lot of other things. None of the damage will show up for some time to come. Certainly, it won't be noticed in the U.S.

"But the Russians will find out about it and they never lose a chance to exploit any deficiency in our handling of trust territories. They propagandize things like that all over the Far East, and that does us no good in these grave times. I feel it is of the utmost importance that Congress live up to our obligations to these natives. The budget for that purpose is infinitesimal in comparison to the immense sums being voted these days."

THE ONCE OVER By H. I. Phillips

Prayer Atop the World

The conquerors of Mt. Everest report that their first act was to say a prayer of gratitude. It is presumptious to imagine the prayer of brave men in a great hour. A mere "Thanks" from such men might suffice. The doers of heroic deeds are seldom men of words. Nevertheless we like to think that at such an hour a prayer atop the peak might have been:

H. I. Phillips

Oh, Lord, we thank thee for the strength, the stamina, the patience, the faith and the guidance bringing us safely through. Atop this highest of mountain peaks we gaze into space and see works of Thy hand never before seen by man. To us comes long hidden beauty. Through the mists we hear a voice from the Old Testament. The words of Genesis seem written in the skies: "In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth. And the earth was without form, and void. And the spirit of God moved upon the face of the waters. And God said 'Let there be light.' And there was light."

Here is the undefiled glory of the first day. Here is peace. From this peak no smoke from camp fires is seen, nor flash of guns. This is the height farthest from the rubble, the ashes, the parade grounds, the blood-stained hills and the sodden battlegrounds. No hymns of hate have penetrated here. No voice raised in anger has floated across these mountains. Here are peace and quiet and the wondrous beauty of a place unvisited and undefiled.

* * *

This is a famed peak atop a famed mountain range, but we know that in every phase of life and on every level there are peaks similarly inspiring, calling to the brave-hearted, and flashing a symbol to those in dark valleys, shabby depths and desolate reaches of prairie and desert. Mankind, now in the low places—the Slough of Despond—needs a Mt. Everest of the human spirit. His civilization is in sore need of Himalayan peaks to set a goal and stir high resolve. This peak is itself a prayer in the great silences of earth. From it, Oh Lord, we see the beginnings of time and catch the spell of Creation. In this majesty all about us we see the works of mankind shrivel into insignificance.

Oh, Lord, may all mankind catch a glimpse of what is seen by us from this peak and feel the matchless spell of that undesecrated day when the Lord God "formed man from the dust and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life!"

Commencement Held For 254 Girls Staters

Told Each Should Write Bill of Personal Obligations

Graduation exercises for 254 Cornhusker Girls Staters were held Monday in the Love Memorial Library Auditorium. The 1953 session of Girls State closed officially at noon.

John E. Curtiss, American Legion national committeeman, gave the commencement address. After explaining why the American Legion Auxiliary sponsors Girls State, Curtiss said that in addition to the American Bill of Rights, "it is important that each of us write for himself a Bill of Personal Obligations.

"We trust that in this week at Girls State," Curtiss continued, "you will have a better understanding not only of your privileges but also of your responsibilities as American citizens."

* * *

THREE outstanding groups of girls were honored at commencement. Recognized for having written the best essays were:

Ellen Nora Brown, Omaha
Joy Berkheimer, Omaha
Jean Ann Wilks, Scottsbluff
Ardis Levine, Columbus
Lois Jean Ripa, Wilber
Janet Vaughan, Guide Rock
Anita Krohn, Grand Island
Joan Thoendel, Chadron
Lois Matzen, Genoa
Marilyn Crandall, Omaha

The following editors of the Girls State newspaper received journalism awards:

Beverly Buck, Lincoln, editor.
Nora Brown, Omaha, assistant editor.
Judy Raymond, Cozad, copy editor.
Ruthena Rosenquist, Lincoln, news editor.
Cathryn Repp, Tecumseh, art editor.
Carol Madison, Oshkosh, feature editor.
Carol Smith, Imperial, mimeograph editor.
Shirley Gulzaw, Hastings, special edition editor.

Outstanding reporter award went to Jean Ann Wilks of Scottsbluff. Muriel Picket of Schuyler, a 1950 Girls Stater, also received a journalism award for sponsoring this year's newspaper.

* * *

HONORED FOR high scores on the government test were:

Carol Madison, Oshkosh.
Nora Ellen Brown, Omaha.
Gretchen Christopher, Schuyler.
Claudia Reed, Omaha.
Elaine Fidler, South Bend.
Phyllis Nelson, Crete.
Marilyn Johnson, Elsie.
Kay Jorgensen, Omaha.
JoAnne Lane, Hardy.
Gretchen Eschoff, North Platte.
Jean Ann Wilks, Scottsbluff.

The high point Girls State town in the educational program was Chappell. The Girls State town of Carter was recognized for having the neatest house.

Mrs. John E. Curtiss, president, was in charge of the graduation exercises. Brief commencement addresses were also given by Susan Hill, 1952 Girls Stater, and Joan Bezousek, 1953 Girls State governor from Omaha.

* * *

IN OPEN discussion before their graduation, Girls Staters evaluated the 1953 session. They concluded that Girls State was "out of this world," but they made some suggestions for future improvement. Girls thought there should be more opportunity for open discussion and that discussion groups should be smaller. They also suggested they be given more time for relaxation.

About 380 Girls Staters and alumnae attended a "Girls State of the Nation" banquet Saturday eevning. With the theme of a television program, alumnae reflected on how Girls State training has applied in their lives.

Flood Deaths In Sioux City At Least 13

Compiled From News Wires

SIOUX CITY, Ia. — The flood death toll in the Sioux City area rose to at least 13 Monday and workers searched for a six-month-old baby also believed drowned.

The 13th victim of last week's flood, which caused $60 million damage here alone and drove 3,000 persons from their homes, was Ferman Gearing, 66, Sioux City.

Gearing's body was found in the Missouri River near Homer, Neb., Sunday night.

Workers also searched in flood debris in the Springdale section here for six-month-old Kathy Adams, believed drowned. The body of her mother, Mrs. Jeff Adams, 23, was found in flood debris Saturday.

* * *

HOGS BEGAN arriving at the Sioux City stockyards as limited operations began for the first time since the flood.

Meantime, the city eased water restrictions allowing "wash downs" in the flood stricken areas where mud and debris was piled deep.

Authorities blocked off the hard hit Leeds and Springdale sections and parts of downtown where thousands of sightseers threatened to hamper cleanup work.

The Stockyards Exchange said shipments were moderate and advised farmers to contact commission men before shipping hogs.

OFFICIALS SAID they hoped to begin taking cattle by midweek and sheep by the end of the week.

They said cleanup and repair crews were working around the clock to put the mammoth yards back into shape. An estimated $10 million damage was caused by the floods to the yards which serve an eight-state ares.

The water ban was still in effect in sections of the city free from flood damage and limited use of water to drinking and cooking.

Authorities said the ban would be lifted when the reservoir tanks reached 22 million gallons.

Crawford Wool Show To Be Held Friday

CRAWFORD—Plans are under way for the tenth annual Crawford Wool Show and District 4-H Show to be held here Friday.

Dawes County Extension Agent Harry Kuska said that entries in the 4-H sheep show are limited to purebred registered sheep, and that one exhibitor may enter two animals in any one class.

A highlight of the sheep show will be the produce of ewe class, with the winner securing a cup which has to be won twice to become permanently owned by an exhibitor.

Judges for the show are W. W. Derrick, extension animal husbandman at the University of Nebraska, for sheep, and Art King of Cheyenne, Wyo., for wool.

The show is sponsored by the Northwest Nebraska Wool Growers Association and the Crawford Chamber of Commerce.

Sizzling Heat Hits Southwest With Threat of New Drought

By United Press

The sizzling Southwest, which suffered through a disastrous drought last summer, baked in another 100 degree-plus heat wave Monday.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said there was no relief in sight Monday or Tuesday for Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas and the lower Mississippi Valley.

Texas ranchers were driving their cattle to market early, rushing the market and dropping the price of livestock. The cowmen had no choice.

Last summer the heat was so oppressive and rainfall so scarce that portions of the Lone Star State were declared federal disaster areas. The parched pastures had not recovered when this year's heat wave began burning the grassland again.

Meanwhile, the toll of persons across the country killed by the late spring heat wave was at least 20. Saturday six persons died in Kansas City, Mo., alone.

Kingfisher, Okla., reported 113 degree heat Sunday, and at Hobart, Okla., the mercury climbed to 112.

The rest of the country had moderate temepratures and generally clear skies.

Small Group Takes Bar Examination

Fifty-four recent law school graduates—the smallest number since World War II—began taking the state bar examination Monday. For three years, the number had exceeded 100.

George H. Turner, clerk of the Supreme Court, said reports from all over the country indicate that law school enrollments are down about 30 per cent.

The basic reasons for this reduction, he explained, are that the GI program is finished, and many who otherwise would be going to school are in the Armed Forces.

The group taking the examination here is about equally divided between graduates of the University of Nebraska and Creighton.

Successful applicants will be admitted in a ceremony before the Supreme Court on Thursday.

After 400 Years, Two Mennonite Groups Join

OMAHA (AP) — Two segments of the Mennonite Church united here and invited others of the 18 separate religious groups, using the name to join them.

The Evangelical Mennonite Brethren and the Evangelical Mennonite Church formally united in services climaxing a three-day conference here Sunday.

Officials said it was the first time in some 400 years of the church's existence that two of the separate groups united.

4-H Demonstrations At Fremont July 8

FREMONT (AP) — The Dodge County extension office will sponsor a county-wide 4-H demonstration day July 8 at the Fremont City auditorium. The day is planned to help 4-H club members and leaders get ready for the Fremont 4-H fair in August.

Beemer Dedicates Clinic, Lacks MD

BEEMER—A $12,000 clinic was dedicated here but no doctor has been obtained yet to staff it.

The American Legion sponsored the project and donations were raised from the community to build the clinic. However, no doctor has been obtained to serve Beemer, which has been without a physician for several years.

Ross Newkirk Named Judge Of 4th District

L. R. (Ross) Newkirk, 62, Omaha attorney, was appointed judge of the Fourth Judicial District to fill the vacancy created by the death of Judge Henry Beal on May 24. The district includes Douglas, Washington and Burt Counties.

Gov. Robert Crosby said he was pleased with the method of appointment and the state has a new judge "who will contribute to the standing of the Omaha District Court bench."

First a committee was selected by the Douglas County Bar Association. Three of the committee members were from Douglas County, and a member each from Washington and Burt Counties.

This committee of attorneys drew up a list of five names. Crosby picked Newkirk's name from the group submitted.

The other four names submitted were U.S. Dist. Atty. Joseph T. Votava, Omaha Municipal Judge Frank G. Nimtz, Omaha Juvenile Probation Officer Lawrence C. Krell, and George N. Mecham, an Omaha attorney.

Flemming Nominated As Mobilization Head

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today formally nominated Dr. Arthur S. Flemming to be director of the Office of Defense Mobilization.

Flemming holds the job, but the nomination, submitted to the Senate, is required by a recent reorganization act.

GAS FOR SYRACUSE—Installation of natural gas lines is underway in Syracuse, population 1,059. Just at this point of digging in the northeast corner of town, the contractors had expected to hit an old water main but the digging machine passed safely over it. Operating the digger, is Charles Bliss of Lincoln, an employee of the Dobson Brothers Construction Co. of which holds the installation contract. More than 150 home owners in Syracuse have signed for the gas which is being piped by the Nebraska City Utilities Company from the Natural Gas Pipeline Company main line northeast of Syracuse. Ike Seen Preparing 'Showdown' With McCarthy

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's blistering attack on "book burners" stirred capital speculation Monday that he may be preparing for a test of strength with Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis).

There was no immediate reply from McCarthy to the President's impromptu remarks at Dartmouth College commencement exercises in Hanover, N.H., Sunday. The Wisconsin senator spent the week end in his native state.

Political observers here felt sure McCarthy sooner or later would take up the gauntlet which Mr. Eisenhower flung down with his declaration that every American has a right to make known his ideas even if they are distasteful to the majority.

ALTHOUGH Mr. Eisenhower mentioned no names, his appeal—"don't join the book burners"—came as thousands of books were being removed from U.S. information libraries overseas at the behest of McCarthy's Senate Investigation Subcommittee.

McCarthy sharply criticized the libraries operated by the State Department for stocking books by known or suspected Communist authors.

But Mr. Eisenhower said:

"How will we defeat Communism unless we know what it is? Why does it have such an appeal for men? It is almost a religion, though one of the nether region.

"We have to fight it and not try to conceal it from our own people."

* * *

AT ANOTHER point, Mr. Eisenhower seemed to be defending, not only the right of loyal Americans to learn the facts about Communism, but also the right of Communists to speak their piece.

"They are a part of America," he said, "and if their ideas are different, they have a right to have them, which is unquestioned, or it is not America."

The Dartmouth commencement at which he received an honorary degree, was the next to last appearance in Mr. Eisenhower's five-day speaking tour of the upper Midwest, New England and Long Island.

He returned to the capital Sunday night after a final stop at Oyster Bay, N. Y., where he dedicated Theodore Roosevelt's famous old mansion as a national shrine.

Europe Behind U.S. in Polio

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP)—Europe suffered considerable increase in polio cases last year but still ran far behind the record in the United States, a U. N. report said.

The World Health Organization of the U. N. reported 57,244 polio cases recorded in the U.S. in 1952, twice as many as the previous year.

This amounted to 36 Americans infected out of every 100,000, an all-time high. In certain states the proportion was as high as 60 per 100,000.

According to the report, Europe had 32,000 reported polio cases in 1952, also twice as many as in 1951. But this proportion amounted to 45 per cent less than in the U.S. since the European countries for which statistics were available have a population double that of the U.S.

Draft Calls Will Not Be Reduced

WASHINGTON (AP)—Defense officials cautioned the public against expecting a sharp drop in draft calls if a truce is reached in Korea.

Maj. Gen. E. C. Lynch, director of the Defense Department's Office of Manpower Requirements, said there will be "no substantial change" in draft calls for probably six months.

Even after that, he did not anticipate that draft calls would drop much from the present low rate of about 23,000 inductees monthly.

Stanton Power District Wants to Construct Lines

The Stanton County Rural Public Power District has filed application with the State Railway Commission for authority to construct 51 miles of electric transmission line in Stanton and Colfax Counties.

The Omaha Public Power District asked authority to build two miles of rural electric lines in Dodge County.

Brides Take Vows

Mrs. Donald A. Gross

Mrs. Wayne C. Leader

Mrs. Edward Irvin Mrs. Kenneth Chase
Mrs. William Luedke Miss Jeanne Campbell

WESTERN—The marriage of Margaret Loretta Murphy and Donald A. Gross was solemnized by the Rev. S.J. Siegienski in St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Tobias, on Tuesday. The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Murphy and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Gross of Beatrice.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina length gown of white alencon lace and net. Her finger-tip veil of lace-edged illusion fell from a tiara embroidered with seed pearls and she carried a bridal bouquet of roses.

Miss Rosemary Murphy of Lincoln was maid of honor. She wore a yellow ballerina length net over satin gown and carried a bouquet of purple carnations and white roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Mildred Murphy of Fairbury, wore a dress of similar design but in a lilac shade and carried a bouquet of yellow carnations and white roses. Miss Anne Murphy was the flower girl and Billy Murphy, ringbearer.

Serving as best man was Jerald Gross of Beatrice. Ushers were Tom Murphy of Washington, D. C., Darrel Wieden and Gus Gustavson, both of Lincoln.

Mrs. Gross attended the University of Nebraska.

On their return from a wedding trip to Colorado Mr. and Mrs. Gross will reside at 3240 No. 48th, Lincoln.

Miss Helen Schultz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Schultz, became the bride of Wayne C. Leader, son of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Leader of Bennet, May 24, at Westminster Presbyterian Church.

Rev. John Douglas Clyde read the service and Rev. Kent Naylor of Octavia sang, accompanied by Miss Josephine Waddell.

The bride appeared in a gown of white Chantilly lace and marquisette over satin. Her finger tip veil of imported illusion fell from a Juliet cap of Chantilly lace embroidered and edged with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of glamelias centered with cypripedium orchids.

Mrs. Clifford Pinkelman of Carroll was matron of honor. Bridesmatrons were Mrs. Alex Detrich and Mrs. Wayne Nelson, and Miss Glennis Widga was a bridesmaid.

Rita and Terry Taylor were flower girls and Bobby Woodford was ring bearer. Lighting the candles were Donna and Sharon Larsen.

Vern Sutter served as best man and seating the guests were Wayne Nelson, John Larsen, Harlan King, Forrest Nisely and Fred Schultz Jr.

Those serving a the reception in the church parlors were:

Mrs. Maury Campbell	Mrs. Velora Doak

Alger-Crowe Wedding

Lincolnites will be interested in a wedding which took place Sunday in Ann Arbor, Mich., when Miss Marilyn Y. Alger became the bride of Donald W. Crowe. The ceremony took place at 7 p.m. at the Ann Arbor Methodist Church with the Rev. DeWitt C. Baldwin officiating. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Alger of Manton, Mich., and the bridegroom's parents are Prof. and Mrs. Lawrence K. Crowe of Lincoln.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an organdy waltz length gown with bouffant skirt. Her finger tip veil was of illusion trimmed with seed pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis with ivy.

The bride attended the University of Michigan. Mr. Crowe, a graduate of the University of Nebraska, is doing graduate work at the University of Michigan.

After June 22 Mr. and Mrs. Crowe will be living in Ann Arbor.

June Bride

Mrs. Anthony R. Lavedas

Hellenic Orthodox Church of the Annunciation was the scene of the wedding at 4 p.m. Sunday of Miss Katherine Peterson and Anthony Lavedas. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Peterson, and Mr. Lavedas is the son of Mrs. Mary Lavedas of Gary, Ind., and the late Gust Lavedas. The Rev. Nicholas J. Velis of St. John's Orthodox Church of Omaha, read the lines of the service against a background of baskets of gladioli and seven branched candelabra.

Houghton Furr, at the organ, accompanied Jack Anderson who sang traditional wedding selections.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a gown of heavy candlelight satin fashioned with a scoop neckline and snug fitted bodice. A panel of imported Swiss Renaissance lace trimmed the neckline and extended out to the shoulders, and was repeated in a panel down the front of the bouffant skirt, which swept into a cathedral train. A crown of seed pearls held her fingertip veil of illusion, and she carried a bridal bouquet of stephanotis centered with white orchids.

Serving as maid of honor was Polly Christopulos, who was frocked in a sunset coral satin and nylon net gown, detailed with an insert of pleated net in the bodice, and ruffles of net forming the waltz length skirt, featuring nosegays of roses in side panels. A net stole and a colonial bouquet of mint green carnations completed her ensemble.

Bridesmaids were Mary Peterson of Grand Island, Amanda Peterson of Kearney, and nieces of the bridegroom, Miss Genevieve Christakis and Miss Marcia Theodore, both of Gary; Miss Connie Lavedas of Detroit, Mich., and Theodora Lavedas of New Buffalo, Mich. They were gowned in mint green nylon tulle frocks fashioned with fitted bodice, waltz length skirts with three tiers of ruffles. Their costumes were completed with matching bolero jackets with turned up collars.

Miss Barbara Levedas of Gary, Ind., was flower girl, and Anthony Lavedas of Gary was ring bearer.

Dr. Nick Tsoflias of Gary was best man, and ushers were Chris J. Pappas of Gary, John Peterson of Kearney, Gus Poulos, Adam Karavas, John Schizas and Paul Andreas.

Assisting at the reception held in the Terrace Room of the Lincoln Hotel were Miss Ann Christopulos and Mrs. William Hronis. A banquet followed the reception.

After a wedding trip to Colorado, the couple will reside at 1124 Pennsylvania in Gary, Ind.

Soroptimists Hear Report On Conference

Members of Soroptimist Club of Lincoln, at the annual business meeting, heard a report of the twenty-second conference of the North Central region, held at Omaha recently, by delegate Anna M. Evans. In her report, Miss Evans summarized programs and objectives included in conference theme, "Service through Extension," and gave an account of the banquet address by Mrs. Oscar W. Hahn, United States member of the United Nations Commission on Status of Women.

Others who attended the conference were club president, Mrs. C. M. Stewart, Mrs. L. L. Coryell Jr., Mrs. Forest Wilson, Mrs. Ernest L. Ruhter, Mrs. E. W. Johnson and Miss Ruth Hovland. Announcement was made that the Lincoln club was recipient of an award, a Soroptimist road sign, from the American Federation for percentage of its membership in attendance at the conference.

Also at the business meeting, the club voted to sponsor as its first service objective an educational program on "Mother and Dad for Child Safety" in co-operation with the Lincoln-Lancaster Safety Council.

Representing the club at a social meeting of the Omaha Venture Club, held at Ralston Saturday evening, were Mrs. L. L. Coryell Jr., Mrs. Oliver T. Joy and Anna M. Evans.

Thomas C. Sorensens Parents of Son, Alan

From Beirut, Lebanon, comes word of the birth of Alan Thomas Sorensen on June 7. The newcomer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Sorensen and has a sister, Ann, 3½, who is very enthusiastic about the new brother. Mrs. Sorensen is the former Mary Barstler of Lincoln. Her husband, information officer in the U.S. Embassy in Beirut, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Sorensen of Lincoln.

June Tempo Accelerated

The DU's and Gamma Phi Betas will be glad to know of the arrival of young Master Stewart on June 11 in Portland, Ore. The proud parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Stewart of Portland. She is the former Miriam Hicks. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Clifford M. Hicks. Mrs. Hicks is now in Portland getting acquainted with the new grandson. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Cloyd L. Stewart.

Miss Marilyn Clark, who has announced her engagement to Gardner Johnson of Sioux Falls, S.D., has set her wedding date for July 19 at St. Mary's Cathedral at noon. Mr. Johnson has been released from the Army.

Going on to some of the many courtesies for Miss Clark—Mrs. Richard Capek, Mrs. Fredrick Davis, Mrs. Harry Galloway and Mrs. Robert Mullen gave a luncheon and miscellaneous shower at the University Club.

A coffee will be given Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Clarence Emerson, with Mrs. James Kunz and Mrs. M. C. Lefler also hostesses.

Then on Wednesday, Mrs. Charles Oehrle and her daughter, Miss Marlene Oehrle, and Mrs. E. A. Frerichs and her daughter, Mrs. John Fuller, will honor Miss Clark with a buffet supper.

Visiting in town are the P. A. Perrines of Memphis, Tenn. She will be remembered as the former Beth Wythers. They are house guests of her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wythers.

Miss Joyce Hays, whose marriage to John Levendoski takes place Saturday, has announced members of the bridal party—Mrs. Carter Iddings will be matron of honor, Frank Hays Livingston is best man and ushers are Mike Lanspa and Jim Blongewicz.

Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Marx have returned from a trip to Louisiana and Texas. They were accompanied on the trip by their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James McCabe.

Nebraska Weddings Told

Mrs. John Westover Elwell

SCOTTSBLUFF — Aisle bouquets of pink gladioli and greenery led to the chancel of the First Presbyterian Church, the scene of the 4 p.m. wedding Sunday of Miss Mildred Opal Yeakley and John Westover Elwell. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orwin Cecil Yeakley, of Atlanta, Ga., and Mr. Elwell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Aloise Elwell of Sidney.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, appeared in a gown of white nylon tulle, featuring a yoke banded with three rows of French lace on the bodice, and a very full formal skirt.

Miss Ann Yeakley of Atlanta, was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Sydna Fuchs of Omaha, Miss Ruth Raymond and Miss Damaris Riddell, both of Scottsbluff.

Lighting the tapers were Miss Sarah Jane Adams of Aurora, and Miss Gretchen Geesen of Seward. Miss Kay Christopher of California was flower girl.

Ted C. Cannon of Mitchell served as best man, and ushers were Glen Rosenquist and Van Westover, both of Lincoln, William Cannon of Mitchell, and M. E. Robinson of Kansas City, Mo.

Mrs. Elwell was graduated from the University of Nebraska, where she was a member of Delta Gamma, and Delta Phi Delta, national art honorary. Mr. Elwell is also a University of Nebraska graduate, where he held membership in Phi Gamma Delta.

Mrs. Alan Katskee

FREMONT—Miss Syvia Krasne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mose Krasne, and Alan L. Katskee, son of Mrs. Edwin Katskee of Lincoln, were married at the Blackstone Hotel in Omaha on Sunday.

Rabbi Joshua Stampfer performed the 6 p.m. ceremony in the ballroom of the hotel.

Mrs. S. Byron Krasne of Lincoln was matron of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Gail Katskee and Miss Sue Diamond, both of Lincoln, Miss Lois Gerlick of Los Angeles, Miss Charney Taub of Omaha, Miss Rosanna Locke of Independence, Kan., and Mrs. Henry Snyder of Kansas City.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an 18th century period princess gown of ivory satin and heirloom Point de Leon lace. Her cascade bouquet was of stephanotis, centered with orchids.

Lt. Vernon Davidson was best man. Ushers were S. Byron Krasne of Lincoln, Robert Pitlor and Lt. Justin Horwich, both of Omaha, Leslie Krasne of Council Bluffs, Ia., Leo Schmidt of Fremont and Jerry Schwartzman of Lincoln.

The bride was graduated from the University of Nebraska where she was president of Mortar Board, Sigma Delta Tau and Alpha Kappa Delta, and a member of Pi Sigma Alpha and Phi Beta Kappa.

Mr. Katskee was a member of Zeta Beta Tau and now is serving in the Armed Forces.

Following a wedding trip to New York, Mr. and Mrs. Katskee will live in Hampton, Va.

Also attending will be Winifred DeVries of Denver, recently of Lincoln. The group will be accompanied by Dorothy Greene, young adult director of the Lincoln YWCA.

Bridal Vows Exchanged

Mrs. Frederick Hendy

Miss Doris Partington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Partington became the bride of Frederick Hendy, son of Mrs. William J. Hendy of North Platte, at a 9 a.m. service Monday at Holy Family Church. The Rt. Rev. Leslie V. Barnes read the nuptial lines.

Mrs. Frank Knox, the bride's aunt, provided traditional wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a silk shantung taffeta waltz length gown. Alencon lace detailed the neckline, and her ensemble was completed with a hat of white Alencon lace.

Mrs. Gary Bastron of Burbank, Calif., the bride's sister, served as attendant, and was gowned like the bride in pale yellow. Miss Barbara Bastron was junior bridesmaid. The Misses Peggy and Joanne Partington were flower girls.

H. Clay Osborn of Hartford, Conn., was best man, and ushers were A. C. Breckenridge and Lee Partington.

Mrs. Hendy attended the University of Nebraska, and Mr. Hendy attended Purdue University in Lafayette, Ind.

The couple will reside in Lincoln.

Nootz-Steven Wedding

The marriage of Miss Nina Joanne Nootz and Jack Lowell Steven was solemnized at an 8 p.m. service Sunday at Westminster Presbyterian Church. The Rev. John Douglas Clyde officiated at the double-ring ceremony in the presence of 250 guests. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Christopher Nootz and the late C. A. Nootz. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Clifford L. Steven of York.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Harold R. Nootz. She wore a gown of monastery white Chantilly lace over satin and nylon tulle with a bouffant skirt tapering into a chapel train.

Mrs. Harold Ofstad of Oakland, Calif., was the matron of honor. She wore a meadow green net over taffeta and carried a colonial bouquet of daisies. The bridesmatron, Mrs. James Murphy, wore a sunlight green net over taffeta, and the bridesmaids, Miss Jane Steven of York and Miss Lela Jo Elliott, chose similar frocks in nile green net over taffeta. They carried colonial bouquets of daisies. Mrs. Kenneth Borgman and Mrs. Donald Christle were candle lighters, Phyllis Ofstad, flower girl, and Steven Nootz, ringbearer.

Herbert Naber of Beatrice was the best man, and ushers were Albert N. Naber of Beatrice, Dale Olson of York, Les Ingold of Columbus and Charles Waymire of Sterling.

A reception was held in the church parlors following the ceremony. Assisting at the reception were:

Mrs. A. L. Rodgers — Mrs. Jean Schoenfeld
Mrs. Evelyn Kahoa — Miss Pam Nootz
Mrs. Harold Nootz — Miss Carol Nootz
Mrs. Raymond Ellason — Mrs. James Weldon
Mrs. Paul Gardner — Mrs. Richard W. Bailey
Miss Elizabeth Frantz — Miss Janet Oakeson
Miss Lois Henderson — Mrs. Carl Burgess
Miss Joyce Nootz — Miss Pat Conway
Mrs. R. E. Garner — Mrs. Sande McNabb

Mrs. Jack Lowell Steven

Both the bride and groom are graduates of the University of Nebraska. She was a member of Towne Club and he was affiliated with Pi Kappa Phi Fraternity.

Family Square Dance Planned

A family square dance for all Lincoln families will be held Tuesday evening at Cooper Playground of F Street Park at 7th and F.

Parents, children and grandparents are welcome as well as all the neighbors.

Dance instructions will begin at 7:30 p.m., with all beginners welcome.

The first dances will start at 8 p.m. This is the first of a series to be held each Tuesday during the summer.

They are planned by the Lincoln Council of Folk and Square Dance Clubs under the direction of the City Recreation Department.

Alden Metcalf is chairman and James Lewis, Jack Dill and Mr. and Mrs. David Rockwell are assistants.

Nebraskans Exchange Wedding Vows

Miss Ferne Backemeyer and Alden Bruce Simon exchanged wedding vows at a Sunday afternoon ceremony at Trinity Methodist Church. The Rev. Bert L. Story read the wedding lines. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Backemeyer and Mr. Simon's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Simon of Martell.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a waltz-length dress of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over white bridal satin with brief lace jacket and bouffant lace-trimmed tulle skirt. A coronation crown of pearl orange blossoms held her double-tiered fingertip veil of English silk illusion and she carried a cluster of white orchids on a white Bible.

Mrs. Maurice Ashland of Tampa, Fla., sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor, and Miss Virginia Pearson and Miss Phyllis Enderle, bridesmaids. The attendants wore identical gowns of nylon tulle over satin in shades of ice blue, sunset pink and nile green. They wore matching headdresses and carried colonial bouquets.

Miss Carolyn Simon, sister of the bridegroom was candlelighter, Janelle Ashland, flower girl, and Jerry Ashland, ring bearer.

Roland Schneider served as best man and Oakley Obermeyer and Harley Brandt, cousins of the bridegroom, were ushers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors. Those assisting were:

Miss Marie Baeder, Miss Gladys Roebke, Miss Eleanor Birt, Mrs. John Welsz, Mrs. Ted Stratton, Mrs. Dave Warster, Miss Arlene Jelinek, Mrs. Robert Flemina, Mrs. Mervin Hendricksen, Mrs. Ralph Knox

The bride attended Nebraska Wesleyan University. Mr. Simon received his MA from the University of Nebraska and is on the teaching staff of the Lincoln schools system.

On their return from a wedding trip to Mexico City Mr. and Mrs. Simon will reside in Lincoln.

Miss Joan Meyer was married to Wayne Allan White at the Second Presbyterian Church on Sunday. The Rev. Ward Conklin officiated at the mid-afternoon ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Meyer of Phillips and Mr. White's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John White of Auburn.

The bride wore a gown of white tissue organdy over satin styled with fitted bodice and a full skirt. An organdy cap held her veil of silk illusion. She carried a white Bible with a corsage of roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Jean Holmes, the maid of honor, wore a white organdy over blue taffeta dress. The attendants Miss Wanda Hann of Clay Center, Miss Barbara Spilker of Minden, and Mrs. Lois Schuster of Phillips all wore blue organdy over taffeta dresses. All carried white peonies. Dale White lighted the candles, and Vickie Fahmeln of Phillips was flower girl.

Paul Kruger of Fort Calhoun was best man. Ushers were Rex Meyer of Phillips, Neal White of Auburn, and Ray Gard of Beaver Crossing.

A reception for 300 guests was held in the church parlors.

The bride is a June graduate of the University of Nebraska. She is affiliated with Phi Upsilon Omicron honorary and was 1953 Goddess of Agriculture.

Mr. White is a June graduate of the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture, past president of the university Student Council, affiliated with Farm House, Alpha Zeta, honorary fraternity, and Innocents.

Pigeonhole Seen For Profits Tax

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Daniel A Reed (R-NY) said the House Ways and Means Committee will pigeonhole President Eisenhower's request for a six-month extension of the excess profits tax

Flatly contradicting the predictions of Speaker Joseph W Martin Jr, Reed said the measure will "never" emerge from his committee for House floor action

Martin had told reporters earlier that "the bill will be on the floor this month and will be passed"

Reed conceded, in a copyrighted interview, that House leaders "may find some way around" his committee but he said "I haven't discovered what it might be"

LINCOLN 1, NEB., MONDAY, JUNE 15, 1953—P.M.

Trade Winds Blowing As Tigers-Tribe Swap 8

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians Monday made a four-for-four player swap with the Detroit Tigers, giving up Shortstop Ray Boone and three pitchers for Pitchers Art Houtteman and Bill Wight, Catcher Joe Ginsberg and Second Baseman Owen Friend.

The three pitchers the Indians sent to the last-place Tigers in what the Tribe's front office called "a straight player trade" were veteran Steve Gromek, rookie southpaw Al Aber and Dick Weik, a righthander off military leave who has not pitched this season because of a sore arm.

Houtteman, 26-year-old righthander, has a 2-6 record this year and a lifetime mark of 52-63. Southpaw Wight, who is 31, is 0-3 this year and has a career record of 51-71.

Boone, with Cleveland since 1948, currently was hitting .241 but had been benched for George Strickland.

The deal, on the final day of the player-trade deadline, followed Cleveland's loss of four straight games here to the league-leading New York Yankees.

Meanwhile, the New York Giants got in on the act, selling Catcher Sal Yvars to the St. Louis Cardinals. Yvars brought "considerably beyond the waiver price" of $10,000.

Yvars, who had been used sparingly this year and was hitting .277, has been on the block for the last year. In 1952, the Giants had arranged to sell him to the Chicago White Sox, but the deal was blocked when all the National League clubs refused to waive on him.

10 Capital City Golfers in Open

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Ten Lincoln golfers will be among those competing with other of the nations finest amateurs in the Trans-Mississippi Golf Association's Golden Jubilee tournament today in Kansas City.

Capital City entrants are Dick Spangler Jr., Doug Dale, Steve Flansburg, Bill Mowbray Jr., Louie Roper, Bob Lau, John Van Bloom, Hal Bowers, Don Pegler Jr., and Don Pegler Sr.

Charlie Coe of Oklahoma City, a former National Amateur champion, is favored to win his fourth Trans-Mississippi title but not without considerable competition.

Eighteen holes will be played today at the Kansas City Country Cub and another 18 Tuesday for the qualifying spots. Match play will begin Wednesday. The championship is to be settled over 36 holes Sunday.

Among the stronger threats to Coe's title are Gene Littler and Bud Holscher, both of La Jolla, Calif., and members of the San Diego State team. Both boys have 11-day furloughs from the Navy.

North Texas State College's former NCAA champions, recently reinstated to amateur status by the U.S. Golf Association, also could come up with at least one strong threat. They are Joe Conrad, San Antonio; Ray Dawson Ferguson, Denton, Tex.; Marion Hiskey, Pocatello, Idaho; Don January, Dallas, and Bill Mosel, Denton.

Jim Tom Blair III of Jefferson City, Missouri State amateur king and veteran of many tournaments here, also should make a strong bid.

LCC Ladies Invitational Is Tuesday

The Lincoln Country Club will host a ladies invitational golf tourned Tuesday with 175 women expected to participate.

There will be 18 and 9-hole competition. The 18-hole players will tee off starting at 7:30 a.m. with the 9-hole competitors scheduled to start at 9:30.

Special events will include low putts, low gross, longest drives on Nos. 9 and 11, nearest pin on No. 5 and line score for all participants.

Mrs. W. W. Carveth and Mrs. Jack Wilson are co-chairmen of the event. Mrs. Bob Stine is club chairman for ladies events.

THE SOMEWHAT cooler weather Sunday brought out a heavy run of golfers on the local links.

At the nine-hole Park Valley course two players carded the best scores of their careers. Gene Clum had a two under par 34, and Mrs. L. A. Solt shot rounds of 42 and 48.

At LCC, Roy Withers Jr. toured the 18 in 72, Al Glandt had 86 and Dr. W. W. Carveth had a 79. For each man it was a new high for the course.

Consistent nine-hole play was topped by Flav Wright and Frank Roberts, each with 38-38. Others in this category were Coe Dalrymple, 39-39, Jerry Hunt, 40-40; John Dudgeon 41-41; Ward Simpson and Billie Hoppe Jr. 42-42 and Seldon Davey and Tom Ludwick, 43-43.

Pioneers contributed the only hole-in-one, Frank Svoboda turning the trick on the 150-yard No. 7. The feat was witnessed by Harvey Kaufman, A. M. Finley and Jack Rieke.

Other scores reported at the public course, where 516 played over the week end were Jim Blongewicz, 70; Art Ahlman, 73; W. W. Everett, 76, and R. E. Tedrich, 78. Ahlman's and Tedrich's scores were the best of their careers.

SCOTCH FORSOME play highlighted Sunday activity at Hillcrest Country Club. Mrs. Clem Gaughan and Dick Spomer took low honors with 45; tied for second at 46 were Mrs. Carl Fisher — C. E. Squire and Mrs. Charles Pierce—E. R. Jorgenson. High score went to Mrs. Dean Jones and Jim Monson with 62. Average score was the 54 of Mrs. Bob Landegren and Dean Jones. Best starting hole was by Mrs. Bill Sheehy and Bill Sieck, with a 5.

Best scores of their career Sunday, were recorded at HCC by Fran Minard (90), John Tidball (97), and Clarence Meyer who had a 40 for the first nine.

Week end lows at HCC were:

Jack McCuistion, 72	Ray Ptak, 78
Jerry Jones, 77	Herm Rohrig, 78
Don Albin, 77	Bob Jones, 79
Tom Harrison, 78	D. E. Murray, 79

Chief Bats Come to Life; Team Wins 4th Straight

By WALT DOBBINS
Journal Sports Editor

Even the presence of young David Kopperwhats, the bespectacled collegian from "Dear Old Rutgers" failed to awe our Lincoln Chiefs as they thumped the late arriving Sioux City Soos 9-5 at Sherman Field Sunday afternoon.

The win was Lincoln's fourth in a row and their longest winning streak of the season. They will be trying for No. 5 Monday evening against Ray Mueller's hired help, the tussle being booked to start at 8 p.m.

Andy Bush appears to be Boss Finney's most likely choice for the mound chore while Art Sauer or Bob Giddens, if they are still around, may go for the enemy.

● ● ●

AS FAR as Sunday afternoon's ball game was concerned it started as a dull affair, our state of discomforture being caused no doubt by the late arrival of the enemy. It was learned that Manager Don Mueller was unaware that the scrimmage had been set for 2 p.m. and it took a searching party and a police escort to get the Soos here in time to get under way an hour and 10 minutes late.

It didn't take long for the Finney family to solve the slants of Starter Ted Birkeland, however, Fred Hancock registering in the first after working the lean thrower from Sooland for a pass. He advanced on Dan Holden's hit and scored on an infield out.

Lincoln missed a run in the third when Holden failed to touch home plate after a long slide.

● ● ●

JACK CARO'S single, his theft of second, a bad throw by Jenkins and Norm Brown's single into center produced a run in the fourth to put the Chiefs out in front, 2-0.

The home clan salted it away for keeps in the fifth when 11 men faced Birkeland and Robert Giddings. Tom Neill, Glen (Red) McQuillen, Joe Rivich and Jack Caro collected singles and Walt Linden a double during the ruckus which gave the Chiefs five big tallies.

Three walks by Giddings and a bad throw by Bill Jenkins, a heave which bounced off Dallas (Moose) Womack's dome to the bleacher fence, gave Lincoln an insurance tally in the sixth and they added another for good measure off Ray Kirchoff in the seventh when Tom Neill singled Fred Hancock across the bag.

Norman Brown had a shutout going into the seventh. Then Dick Getter's one-ply wallop, a fielder's choice, Jack Caro's error and a double by Jenkins gave the Soos a pair.

Caro and Neill starred in the field.

Lincoln in First Place For Office Changes

Pusey — Clark — Nagle — Hayes

Gordon — Burkhart

Over a seven-year span the Lincoln Western League ball club undoubtedly holds the record for the number of changes made in front office personnel. When Bill Hayes announced his resignation last week, the appointment of John Maher marked the fifth change in business managers in the past three seasons.

Elmer (The Great) Burkhart was the first, being Art Ehlers choice when the Philadelphia Athletics took over the club in 1947. Howard Gordon, a "trouble-shooter" of the old school came on next and it was during his three-year tenure that the Lincoln club made money. The A's drew around 125,000 in 1948 and 148,00 in 1949, Lincoln's pennant winning year.

Carl Pusey succeeded Gordon and the A's skidded though no fault of the South Carolinan. Fran Nagle, the gridder, took over in 1952 and resigned mid-way in the season to go into professional football.

Tom Clark, the Carolina druggist, turned his business over to his wife and finished the season here. This season he is the publicity chief of the parent Philadelphia club. Bill Hayes was picked by a Lincoln group to head the home-owned Chiefs this spring. Now Bill leaves us because of illness in the family and a chance to go into a more lucrative field.

Maher, a small, wiry Texan, takes over this week. We wish him the best—No. 7 might be a lucky number.

Kohler Family In Win

DONIPHAN, Neb. (AP)—The Ralph Kohler family of Tekamah carried home a lion's share of the trophies Sunday as the four-day Nebraska state trapshoot came to an end.

Kohler won the High Over-all championship, breaking 760 of 800 targets; the High All Around title with 570 of 600; the Nebraska All Around with 381 of 400, and was runnerup in Doubles with 92 of 100.

His shooting also won for him the High Life Member All Around and the High Life Member Over-all trophies.

Kohler's wife, Dorothy, took the Women's All Around championship, smashing 702 of 800 targets; the Women's All Around with 516 of 600; another Women's All Around with 324 of 400; the Women's Doubles with 53 of 100, and the Women's Handicap with 90 of 100.

The third shooting member of the Kohler family, Max, 17, annexed the Junior championship with 94 of 100.

Other champions crowned Sunday:

Out-of-State Over-all — Merle Stockdale, Ackley, Ia., 765x800.
All Around Out-of-State—Bob Allen, Des Moines, Ia., 572x600.
All Around Women's—Iva Pendridge, Phillipsburg, Kan., 603x700.
Doubles—Wayne Kennedy, Kimball, 96x100. Runnerup—Kohler, 92x100.
Class B champion—Lem Keller, Benkelman, 52x100. Runnerup—Bill Nelson, Brady, 91x100.
Nebraska Handicap—John Baker, Omaha, 98x100. Runnerup—Robert Moore, Omaha (lost to Baker in shootoff).
Short Yardage champion—Baker. Runnerup—Moore.
Long Yardage champion—Warren Miller, Stratton, 95x100. Runnerup—Glen Fleming, Sidney, 94x100.
Women's championship runnerup—Eleanore Kendall, Omaha, 83x100.

Wally Hopp Wins Haymaker Open

COZAD—Wally Hopp of Hastings posted a 95, 10 under par, successfully defending his crown in capturing the Haymaker Open at Cozad Sunday.

Hopp topped 82 hopefuls to gain the championship. He was two strokes better than runnerup Dean Candea of North Platte, who crowded with his 97.

Ray Kreiger of North Platte with a 99, and Hoyt Griffin of Cozad with a 101 rounded out the top for scorers for the meet.

Wahoo Whacked By Fremont, 11-4

FREMONT—The Fremont Night Hawks soared again Sunday night, winning a Pioneer Nite League game from Wahoo, 11-4, as Floyd Thierolf gave up 10 hits but won handily.

Seven of the 10 Wahoo hits were collected by Virg Gottsch, University of Nebraska pasttimer, and Frank Petrzelka. Gottsch had four out of five including two doubles, and Petrzelka had three for five and one double.

Irv Peterson's two doubles in five trips paced Fremont. The Night Hawks trailed, 1-0, in the second inning when ex-Nebraska Outfielder Milt Frei hit a homer over the right-field wall 350 feet away to drive in two runs.

David City Falls To Offutt Nine

DAVID CITY — Offutt Field coupled a stolen base and a David City throwing error into the big run in the bottom of the ninth to beat David City 6-5, here Sunday in a Pioneer Nite League tilt.

David City unleashed a four run attack in the eighth to knot the score at five all, but succumbed in the final frame.

The Fliers took the win when Jack Barnhardt walked, stole second, and when he advanced from second to third on Tom Case's long fly to center, a bad throw to third enabled him to score.

Top Welters Fight Tonight

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Two important welterweight boxing questions will be answered here tonight.

1. Is Gil Turner burned out?
2. Is Johnny Saxton as good as his record?

Turner, the flurry-punching Philadelphian, and Saxton, unbeaten New Yorker, clash in a 10-rounder at Connie Mack Stadium.

David City Hosts Golf Tourney

DAVID CITY—The annual open golf tourney of the David City Country Club will be held Sunday, June 21. Entries will be taken until 10:30 a.m. The championship flight will be 27 holes medal play. Six prizes will be given in each flight.

The course record at David City is 32 strokes, tied by Doug Dale two years ago. A special prize will be awarded to the golfer setting a new record. Par on the David City nine-hole course is 36.

Michigan Into NCAA Finals

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—Texas and Lafayette meet Monday night for the right to play Michigan in Tuesday night's game of the NCAA college world series here.

Texas remained in the running in the double elimination tournament Sunday night by smacking Michigan 6-4, after losing to the Wolverines 12-5 on Saturday. Lafayette defeated Boston College 2-1 in 11 innings to earn its shot at the national college baseball title.

Michigan drew its bye into the final game Tuesday by its Saturday night victory over Texas, which made the Wolverines the first team ot win three straight games.

Each of the three remaining teams have won three and lost one. Monday night's loser will be eliminated.

Yankees Doodle— With Foe

By the Associated Press

Unless Al Lopez is an incurable optimist who wears rose-colored glasses even in the dark, he could do worse than give his Cleveland Indians a little talk—something like this:

"We've tried everything to beat those Yanks, but whatever we do, they manage to go us one better. When we streak, they put together a better streak. When we have the pitching, they manage to set the big blow to beat us."

Until a week ago, Lopez was still talking pennant. At least the Indians were in hailing distance of the Yankees at that time. But the clean sweep of the four-game series that ended with a double conquest, 6-2 and 3-0, for the Yanks Sunday, just about knocked the breath out of the Tribe.

Casey Stengel and his swashbuckling crew now are 10½ games ahead of the Indians with the season almost half over. The Yanks have won 18 games in a row, which is the third longest winning streak in American League history.

● ● ●

THE ST. LOUIS Browns lost their 14th straight, when they took a twin shellacking from the Philadelphia A's, 4-1 and 3-1.

The Chicago White Sox moved into third place with a pair of triumphs over the Red Sox, 6-0 and 1-0.

Billy Pierce tossed the first, giving up only two hits, while Sandy Consuegra threw the second.

In the other American League game, the Washington Senators slugged the hapless Detroit Tigers, 6-1, behind the strong-arm hurling of Frank Shea.

The see-saw battle for first place in the National League continued between the Milwaukee Braves and the Brooklyn Dodgers. The amazing Braves edged past the Brooks by winning a doubleheader from the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7-3 and 8-0. Don Liddle threw a five-hitter for Charlie Grimm's lads in the first game and Bob Buhl came right back with a two-hit job in the afterpiece.

THE BROOKS knocked off the Chicago Cubs, 6-3, in the opener of their scheduled double-header with Billy Loes and Joe Black both working. But in the nightcap, they had to be content with a 6-all tie. The Dodgers were ahead, 6-2, in the ninth, but Ralph Kiner smashed a home run with the bases loaded and two out to tie the count. The game was called because of darkness.

Ken Raffensberger outpitched Robin Roberts as the Cincinnati Redlegs beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 2-1, in the first game of a double-header. The Phils came back to win the second, though, 4-1, with Carl Drews going eight innings.

Harvey Haddix and Sal Maglie hooked up in another brilliant pitching duel, with the former hurling the St. Louis Cardinals to a 1-0 triumph in the first game of a twin bill. The Cards also won the nightcap, 9-4, behind Vinegar Bend Mizell.

Vandals Wreck Lake

VERDON, Neb. (AP)—Vandals who tampered with the lake outlet have lowered the water level one foot in the Verdon State Lake.

Deputy State Game Warden John Harpham said that the loss of a foot of water from the lake is a serious matter. The loss of water will take weeks to be offset by the relatively light inflow, he said.

Pick of Events Worrying Baker

By DICK BECKER
Journal Sports Writer

Thane Baker, Kansas State's cinder whirlwind, may have to choose just which records he wants to assault this week.

The Wildcat lad is entered in the NCAA 100-, 220- and 440-yard dashes. He has the top performance in the nation for all three events.

But the time schedule on the meet may keep him out of one of them.

Preliminaries in the three events for the National Collegiate Track and Field Championships will be run close together Friday at Nebraska's Memorial Stadium.

The quarter-mile will be at 6:30, the 100 at 6:50 and the 220 at 7:50. Chances are that Baker will have to miss the 100.

Finals in the 440 will be at 6:40 Saturday with the 100 finals immediately afterward at 6:50. The 220-yard dash finals will be run at 7:20.

● ● ●

NINE of the entrants in the 440 have done under :48 this spring.

Baker's mark of :47.1 is the best for the field of 40 contestants. Baker's fastest unofficial time was :46.4, done in a relay.

● ● ●

AN UNKNOWN high school sprinter when he went to Kansas State, Baker, now a senior, has compiled an impressive cinder record.

He is the only sprinter in the history of the Big Seven Conference (formerly the Big Six) to win both the 100- and 220-yard dashes for three consecutive years. He is the only sprinter to win three consecutive 100-yard dash titles at the Kansas Relays. He has tied the world indoor mark of :06.1 for the 60-yard dash.

Besides having the best 440 mark, Baker also is the 100-yard dash leader at :09.4 and the 220-yard dash leader at :20.4.

Only defeat for Baker this spring came in a preliminary heat of the 100-yard dash during the Big Seven Conference meet at Ames. He finished third in that after breaking the conference 440 record with his :47.1 effort. He came back and won the 100 finals the next day.

● ● ●

JIM LEA of Southern California will post the biggest threat to Baker in the quarter-mile. Lea finished third in the NCAA 400-meter dash last year. He has been clocked in :47.2 this year in the 440.

He won the Pacific Coast Conference title in the event and placed second in the 220. He is only a junior.

Other top 440 prospects and their best 1953 times include Don Smith, Kansas, :47.6; Oliver Sax, Penn State, and Lou Jones, Manhattan, :47.7; Fred Schlereth, Columbia, :47.8; and George Adrian, Abilene Christian; Walt Burnett, San Jose State, and Fred George, Stanford, :47.9.

Herb McKenley, the Jamaican who attended the University of Illinois, holds the world, American, collegiate and NCAA meet records, the latter around one turn. The world and American mark is :46 seconds flat; the collegiate record and also the NCAA meet mark around one turn is :46.2.

NCAA meet record for two turns—the 440 here will be run around two turns—is :46.8, held by Ray Melott of Stanford.

Complete entry list for the 440:

New Athletic Loop Formed

RALEIGH (AP) — The Atlantic Coast Conference, a seven-team "playing conference," was organized here Sunday with indications that Virginia would be admitted to membership well in advance of the next meeting, set for Greensboro, N. C., Aug. 7-8.

West Virginia, which appeared to have an outside chance for a bid, apparently did not figure seriously in the final deliberation.

Each of the seven schools, Duke, North Carolina, Wake Forest, North Carolina State, Maryland, Clemson and South Carolina, was represented.

The seven schools recently announced their secession from what was formerly the 17-member Southern Conference.

Virginia Tech, VMI, Washington and Lee, William and Mary, West Virginia, The Citadel, Richmond, George Washington, Furman and Davidson remained in the Southern Conference.

Fremont Golf Win to Spomer

FREMONT (AP)—Sam Spomer of Lincoln Sunday won the fourth annual Fremont Amateur Golf Tournament.

Spomer put together rounds of 88 and 77 for a three-under-par 165. Carl Pohling of Beatrice and Gene Chadwell of Lincoln tied for second with 169.

Legislature Uncorks Six Sizzling Game Laws

Few bills, big doing.

That's the story of the Legislature and the game laws in Nebraska this year.

Just six bills.

● ● ●

BUT THEY mourned and they "anted" so to speak.

They took the mourning dove off the list of birds that could be hunted.

They put the antelope on the list of animals that could be hunted.

Do you recall when the mourning dove bill was red hot? Senators mourned that they got more mail over that one than they did over taxes. Why not? The mourning dove bill could be settled one way or the other and speedily. Who ever settled taxes speedily?

WHILE THEY were at it in putting the antelope on the "open" list the Game Commission was given permission to open any part of the state, or all of it, for deer hunting. Of course, the commission can also say when and where you can hunt antelope.

Another bill says that from now on you can have a limit of two lines with two hooks each while fishing in any lake, pond or reservoir.

Seems the poor fish were getting hooked too much!

Then there is the dual application blank for deer and antelope hunting permits.

Simple little measure. Means you and I can apply on the same blank for a license.

If our number is drawn in the "raffle" for licenses then we both get a chance to shoot at a deer or antelope. Some call it the "partnership" law and some the "partnership" law and some the "I don't want to go it alone" bill.

Father's Day is Sunday, June 21st.

Overseas Trip Next for Hogan

OAKMONT, Pa. (AP)—Ben Hogan has fulfilled one ambition—to win four National Open golf championships—and in 10 days his fierce pride will send him soaring across the Atlantic in quest of another.

The course-conquering master from Ft. Worth said Sunday he would leave between June 20 and June 23 for Carnoustie, Scotland, to play in his first British Open tournament July 6-9.

"There is a special flight once a week which I hope to make," he said. "I would like to get there a couple of weeks in advance and try out the course and the smaller British ball."

Hogan said he had heard there is a British rule which prevents practice on a championship course until a week before the event and added: "I hope it's not true."

"I think preparation is essential in every big tournament," he said. "I especially need it in Scotland where I've never played."

The frigid little pro is driven to this new venture in the twilight of his career by a desire to prove possibly to himself as well as his critics that golf greatness has no geographical bounds.

There are those who, while admitting Hogan is the golf Goliath of the era, are unwilling to compare him with Walter Hagen or Bobby Jones until he has, like those two immortals of the sport, shown he can also master the winds and the sand dunes of Britain's great seaside courses.

If there ever was the slightest doubt of Hogan's right to be ranked with the best shotmakers of all time it was erased Saturday when he won the 53rd National Open at Oakmont—his fourth in six years.

Gene Saraxen, whose 30-year career spans the Jones and Hogan eras and the great campaigns of two continents, immediately labelled Hogan "the greatest champion in all the lore of competitive golf."

South African Bobby Locke, who will defend his British Open crown against Hogan next month, said:

"Hogan should have no trouble at Carnoustie. He is the master of every golf shot. He can meet all conditions."

Hogan continues to build up arguement for those who rate him supreme.

His fourth Open championship in a stirring last day battle with Sam Snead tied the winning records of Willie Anderson and Bobby Jones.

His 72-hole score of 283, five under par, marked the first time big, mean Oakmont had been mastered by man in competition of that length. Jones, in his last open here in 1927, shot 312.

Earlier this spring Hogan set a new Augusta national course record in winning his second masters in 274. In five tournaments this year he has won four and become the leading money winner with $16,400.

In the 53rd Open Hogan led after every round with scores of 72-72-73-71-283—the first since Jim Barnes in 1921 to do it. Only Snead lasted long enough to challenge him in the final round and Sam, now a fourtime runnerup, wilted to finish at 289.

Seidls Roses Win First in Cornhusker Show

'Joanna Hill' Second; Inaugurations Theme

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Seidl of 2715 So. 16th were presented the gold and bronze medals of the American Rose Society after they were declared the top winners in the annual Cornhusker Rose Society Rose Show.

The Seidls won the gold medal with a "Peace" rose and the bronze medal with a "Mirandy" rose.

* * *

IN THE RUNNERUP spot and receivers of the silver medal were Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Fitzpatrick of 2800 Calvert, displaying a "Joanna Hill" rose.

With the theme being "Inauguration Through the Years," the rose show featured specially arranged tables with rose collections and decorations set in the manner of former presidents' wives from Martha Washington to Mamie Eisenhower.

Neighbors, Rushing to Fatal Tractor Accident, Crash

HERMAN (AP) — Melvin Ackerman, 50, was killed Sunday morning on his farm three miles northwest of here in a tractor accident.

Ackerman was mowing alfalfa on the side of a steep hill when the tractor overturned, crushing his head beneath a wheel.

Ackerman's wife, Julie, called neighbors for help. In responding, Ted and Julius Webber were involved in an accident near the Ackerman farm when their car collided with one driven by William Hart of Herman.

The Webber brothers were taken to Clarkson Hospital in Omaha.

Ted Weber suffered a possible fracture of the neck and is listed in fair condition. His brother, Julius, received a fractured shoulder in the crash and is in good condition.

Ackerman is survived by his wife, and a daughter, Julie Ellen, six years old.

North Platte Man Slides From Jail

ALLIANCE (AP)—Ramon Armijo, 35, North Platte, stepped out to take a shower but instead slid down a water spout from the third floor of the Box Butte County jail and escaped.

Armijo was about to be jailed for failure to pay a $100 drunken driving fine, officers said. He asked if he could bathe and put on clean clothing. He was allowed in a shower room, but promptly walked out and slid down the pipe.

Two Omahans Die of Self-inflicted Wounds

OMAHA (AP) — Two Omaha men died Sunday of what authorities said were self-inflicted gunshot wounds. Coroner George Sullivan said Earl Picht, 40, was found dead with a bullet wound in his head. His wife said she left him with their 6-month-old child to visit several taverns and returned to find him dead.

Joseph M. Burns, 71, a retired electrical contractor, suffered gunshot wounds and died at his home. He had been ill.

Plane Crash Kills Former Lincolnite

McCOOL — Funeral arrangements are pending for Mrs. Don Smith, 24, former McCool Junction resident who was killed in a plane accident at Winslow, Ariz.

Also killed was the pilot of the plane, Norman Carrier of La Mesa, Calif., who was en route to Norfolk, Neb., to visit his relatives.

Mrs. Smith's husband was injured in the crash and will be taken by train from Winslow to Lincoln, Neb. The Smith's 19-month-old daughter, Deborah Ann, escaped injury.

A fifth occupant of the plane, Vern Janssen, 28, of San Diego, suffered a broken leg.

The Smiths were en route to McCool Junction to visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moyer. Mrs. Smith, the former Charleen Moyer, worked as an elevator operator at Miller and Paine in Lincoln for several years. She and her husband and daughter left Nebraska last October to live at Lemon Grove, Calif.

Upon hearing word of the fatal accident, Mrs. Smith's father, father-in-law and brother-in-law, Harold Smith Jr., left for Winslow.

The light plane crashed shortly after taking off from the Winslow airport. It crashed into a freight car at the railroad yard.

The Smiths were friends of Carrier. Janssen was en route to South Dakota.

Many in State Department Face Dismissal

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department plans to fire about 2,600 employees at home and abroad to comply with economy edicts from Congress.

In the face of a stiff budget cut for the 1954 fiscal year beginning July 1, officials said some 900 employees probably will be sliced off State Department rolls here.

* * *

ANOTHER 900 Americans serving overseas and 800 alien employees also stand to lose their jobs.

The reduction in the U.S. diplomatic force already is under way. Approximately 100 State Department employees and another 200 Americans overseas already have been fired in anticipation of the budget cuts.

The State Department now has approximately 42,000 employees around the world. About 10,000 of these would be transferred to a separate overseas information agency proposed by President Eisenhower if Congress approves.

ABOUT 1,000 more Point IV technical aid employees would be shifted to the Mutual Security Agency under the same reorganization plan.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles is anxious to trim the State Department's mammoth staff. But the personnel cuts of about 21 per cent will curb diplomatic operations more than had been anticipated.

Postmasters Sacked

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Post Office Department said it has discharged about 50 postmasters since the Republican administration came into power in January.

MEN PAST 40

Afflicted With Bladder Trouble, Getting Up Nights, Pains in Back, Hips, Legs, Tiredness.

If you are a victim of these symptoms then your troubles may be traced to glandular inflamation. Neglect of such troubles often leads to permanent injury

Glandular Inflamation is a constitutional disense and it is futile for sufferers to try to treat themselves at home. Medicines that give temporary relief will not remove the cause of your trouble.

The Excelsior Institute, an institution devoted exclusively to the treatment of Diseases of older men by Non-Surgical Methods has a revealing FREE Book that tells how many basic troubles may be corrected with proven methods of treatment.

During the past few months men from over 500 Communities have been successfully treated at the Excelsior Institute. They found soothing relief and a new zest in life.

This new, Free, Illustrated Book deals with Diseases peculiar to Men. Gives factual knowledge that could prove of utmost importance to your life. There is no obligation ... ess Excelsior Institute Dept 3311 Excelsior Springs, Missouri.

What you should know about SLEEPING CAPSULES

Millions Use Dangerous Habit Forming Drugs! New Discovery May End Danger.

NEW YORK, N. Y. Many thousands of persons troubled with insomnia and early morning "wakeness" may have reason to cheer a doctor's discovery of a non-habit forming sleeping capsule that does not contain barbiturates, bromides or narcotics.

TESTED FOR RESULTS—SAFETY

This amazing new sleeping capsule—called Dormin—has been clinically tested for safety and can now be purchased at any drugstore without a prescription. Dormin is guaranteed to provide a solid night's sleep, users awake fresh and alert.

Dormin has been consumer tested for over two years and has been proved completely safe and according to Dormin users, it affords sound, healthful sleep without any jittery after effects. Dormin is available at drugstores without a prescription at a reasonable cost—$2.25 for a bottle containing 36 capsules—only 6¼c per sleeping capsule. Dormin is guaranteed by its makers to promote sleep or money is returned.

Wheat Prices Fall Limit; Sales Heavy

CHICAGO (AP)—Wheat futures prices fell the 10 cent a bushel limit in heavy selling Monday.

Liquidation was fairly large at the start and became heavier as the session progressed.

The expanding harvest in the Southwestern winter wheat belt, and the lack of storage space for the new crop, were the main bullish influences.

Wheat closed 6⅞ to 9⅝ cents lower, July $1.89@1.88½, corn was down 2⅞ to 3½, July $1.49¾@1.50, oats were 1½ to 1⅝ lower, July 70½c, rye was 4 to 4¾ cents lower, July $1.36@1.56¼, soybeans were off 2½ to 4¾ cents, July $2.83½@2.84, and lard was 15 to 28 cents a hundred pounds lower, July $9.00.

Phillips Boosts Crude Price 25c Per Barrel

NEW YORK (AP)—Phillips Petroleum Co., boosted the price it pays for crude oil by 25 cents a barrel in five Midwest and Southwest states. The increase is effective immediately.

The last general increase for crude was in 1947.

Phillips raised its posted price on all grades of crude at all points in Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, New Mexico and Colorado where purchased prices are posted by the company.

Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Piles

Find Healing Substance That Does Both—
▶ Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to stop bleeding—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

Now this new healing substance is offered in ointment form for hemorrhoids under the name Preparation H.® The price is only 98¢ a tube including an applicator. The name to ask for is Preparation H—at all drug stores. And remember—if not entirely satisfied—your money will be refunded promptly. ®Trade Mark.

MR. MILQUETOAST, LETTING A FOURSOME GO THROUGH, REALIZES THAT HE HAS BEEN A BIT NEGLIGENT

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

BY ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D.Sc.

1. Yes, by economizing, say experts, and letting the boss know about it. One employee who wanted a raise brought his boss home to dinner. The meal was economical, but the wife wore an expensive dress and the home was furnished beyond their means. The guy didn't get the raise. When the boss knows the wife is helping hubby save for a rainy day, he knows that he has hired a reliable, steady employee.

2. A prominent industrialist expressed the opinion that the rotation of college courses and business would sharpen students' wits and give them a liberal education at the same time. Three college presidents disagree. I dropped out of college one year to take chemical control of a big sugar factory, and another year to sell books. I feel this did a lot to connect my Plato, Greek, Latin, math, science, English and history with life, and help make me a more liberal-minded citizen.

3. Yes, a driver travels several feet after he spots danger before he can press the brakes. After pressing the brake, a car at 20 m.p.h. travels about 50 feet before stopping; at 40 m.p.h., 165 feet; at 60 m.p.h. 335 feet. Yet, the average distance between cars at any speed is rarely over 75 feet. No wonder a high percentage of accidents results from driving too close to the car ahead. Autos don't make fools—they develop them.

POINTS FOR PARENTS

BY EDYTH THOMAS WALLACE

Not This This

Mother: "Please be a good girl while my club is here, won't you? I hope you won't try to show off or do any of the naughty things you did when they were here before."

Mother: "I told Mrs. Jones to bring Ann when she comes to our club meeting. You two little girls can have a tea party and then play outdoors while we have our meeting."

Showing small children we fear they will misbehave is pretty sure way of getting them to live up to our expectations.
